AUSTRIAN CHANCELLOR SLAIN IN UPRISING

Longshoremen Vote Three-to-one For Strike Arbitration

Early Returns at San Francisco Are Favorable, Reliable Source Says; Ten Ships Being Loaded in Seattle

Workers Cheerful As They Cast Votes

San Francisco, July 25.—A reliable source to-day stated the Pacific Coast longshoremen, who went on strike May 9, were voting three-to-one for arbitration in early referendum returns.

Official announcement of the vote is still awaited.

The Examiner stated it had learned upon reliable authority longshoremen had voted by an "overwhelming majority" to accept arbitration.

While striking longshoremen of the Pacific Coast waited for the result of their vote on the submission of their grievances to arbitration, efforts were being made to-day to settle walkout differences of the allied maritime crafts.

Mayor Angelo Rossi telephoned Acting Governor Frank F. Merriam, meanwhile, asking that the 1,000 or more national guardsmen still on waterfront duty here, be retained until the dock controversy is finally settled.

It was predicted here to-day that 12,000 Pacific Coast longshoremen would vote for arbitration.

Seattle, July 25.—More than 1,000 longshoremen's ballots on the arbitration proposal were sent south to San Francisco yesterday evening by airplane. They are being counted today at the southern city.

On the vote, union officials here said, they believed about 80 per cent of the membership of 1,300 men participated. Standing in long lines at their hall yesterday waiting to vote, the striking longshoremen seemed more cheerful than at any time prior to the walkout, observers stated.

Union officials here predicted the vote would show a "large majority" for the proposed arbitration.

Meanwhile to-day, ten ships were being worked at Smith Cove terminals by non-union men, under the protection of police and special deputy sheriffs.

A demonstration in which the crews of two tugboats were stoned early yesterday was broken up when harbor patrolmen played a fire hose on the pickets.

School Results Out To-morrow

Results of senior and junior matriculation examinations written by students in Victoria and Island schools will be published by The Daily Times to-morrow. The entrance results will be out Friday.

AIDS MOVE TO END PORT STRIKE

SHIPS AGAIN TO CALL HERE

Emma Alexander to Sail on Saturday and Santa Lucia to Arrive Sunday

Victoria will again be linked with California by water this week-end, following a tie-up of nearly ten weeks, because of the longshoremen's strike at Pacific Coast ports of the United States. Since early in May no California ships have called at Victoria and the loss to the tourist trade has been enormous.

The first sailing from Victoria to the south will be taken Saturday at midnight by Ss. Emma Alexander of the Pacific Steamship Lines. The Emma has been tied up in Seattle since she arrived from California in May.

The Grace Line will have Ss. Santa Lucia here from California ports Sunday morning and out to the south Monday evening. The weekly service inaugurated by this company just before the strike went into effect will be continued with sailings to San Francisco each Sunday evening.

Ss. Ruth Alexander, which has been tied up in San Francisco, will arrive here Thursday evening, August 2, and will sail for the south August 4 at midnight. The Emma Alexander and the Ruth will alternate each Saturday evening and will arrive Thursday evenings.

U.S. Tennis Stars In Davis Cup Final

Sidney Wood and Frank Shields Play Brilliantly to Defeat Jack Crawford and Vivian McGrath, Australia, in Final Singles Match; Americans Will Meet England in Final

Canadian Press and Associated Press

Wimbledon, July 25.—Sidney B. Wood Jr. and Frank X. Shields, playing magnificent tennis, today won the final two singles matches from Australia in the interzone final of Davis Cup play to advance to the challenge round against England.

Wood first defeated Jack Crawford, ace of the Aussies, 6-3, 9-7, 4-6, 4-6, 6-2, in a match postponed from yesterday by rain, and Shields then put over the deciding win against young Vivian McGrath, 6-4, 6-2, 6-4.

They will meet England for the Davis cup in a five-match series starting Saturday and continuing on Monday and Tuesday.

Wood played the greatest tennis of his life in defeating Crawford, the nation's ranking player a year ago, losing by two sets to none when he halted play yesterday. Sidney started unsteadily to drop the third and fourth sets to Crawford, then tried to run out the last set for victory, 6-2.

INTERIOR LAND IS TAKEN OVER

Government Clears Up Similkameen Settlement By Purchasing Rights

To clear up titles for settlers in the valley as well as to protect their investment, the government yesterday arranged to take over the property formerly held by the Similkameen Fruit Lands Limited in the Similkameen Valley.

The amount to be paid is $68,000 on a basis of $38,000 cash and $30,000 within the next five years. In return the government will take over agreements with settlers in the district on which $285,000 is now said to be owing over a period of years.

This move was made, it was explained officially, to clear up a situation developing about twelve years ago when the fruit lands limited company became defunct.

In 1913, this company started the colonization scheme in the valley, purchasing the property from Mrs. Ella Lowe. She took a $50,000 mortgage as part payment.

ALASKA MOOTED AS NAVAL BASE

Associated Press

Washington, July 25.—In response to questions at his press conference to-day, Secretary of the Navy Claude Swanson said Alaska was among the areas being considered as a site for a Pacific naval base.

The Secretary, however, emphasized no more consideration was being given to Alaska than any of a dozen other sites.

"It is the policy of the navy to consider establishing two operating bases in the Pacific and two in the Atlantic," he said.

Mercantile Wage Order Passed To Cover Wide Range

Minimum Scale For Store Workers Fixed at $15 For Adult Males and From $9 to $12.75 For Youths; Goes Into Effect August 2; Minister Explains Plan to Rebuild Wage Structure in Province

Thousands of adult workers in the mercantile industry of British Columbia are affected by a minimum wage order completed to-day by the Board of Industrial Relations.

Under the scale every adult employee in a wholesale or retail establishment must receive a minimum of $15 a week, providing he works forty or more hours a week.

For those working less than forty hours a week the scale is forty cents an hour with a minimum of $1.60 a day.

For youths from eighteen to twenty-one years of age the scale is graduated according to the period of employment as follows: First three months $9 a week; second three months $10; third three months $11; fourth three months $12. Thereafter until the age of twenty-one is reached $12.75 a week.

Youths who work less than forty hours a week will get minimum hourly pay as follows: First three months 25 cents an hour; second three months 27 cents; third three months 30 cents; fourth three months 35 cents; and afterwards 40 cents an hour, with a minimum $1.25 a day.

EFFECTIVE NEXT WEEK

MAYOR SHOWS AIM OF BRIEF

City Figures Presented to Premier Pattullo to Indicate Collapse of Tax System

The present system of raising civic revenue was blamed by Mayor David Leeming to-day for the shrinkage in population in Victoria and the city's financial ills, as he explained the brief he sent yesterday to Premier T. D. Pattullo for submission at the conference of premiers and federal heads on unemployment.

The cold figures, he stated, revealed the complete breakdown in present methods of taxation as far as cities and municipalities were concerned.

At present, he added, reiterating his constant contention, land and improvements have to carry the burden of civic work to an extent which cannot be borne any longer. Unless some changes were made in the system he could see little hopes of Victoria emerging from its present position.

The mayor referred to the reduction in government grants and their total abolition in some cases, adding that simultaneously with their decrease, costs of social and other services formerly shouldered by the province had been shunted on to the municipalities. As a result the taxpayer had to dig into his pocket to pay.

Inability of the ratepayers to keep up with this system, which forced the greatest part of civic financing on to owners of land and improvements had resulted in their withdrawal from the city, to live in adjoining municipalities, where fewer services gave them lower taxes.

He commented on the building figures for Greater Victoria, showing the city to be lagging far behind some of the municipalities when construction figures were compared with population percentages.

The purpose of the brief had been to demonstrate in as forceful a way as possible, the collapse of existing taxation methods.

Albertans Say They Lead in Undertaking

Canadian Press

Toronto, July 25.—"Price advertising" has been eliminated from the funeral directing profession of Alberta, with the exception of one man who is a "hold-out," R. D. Sheffield, a member of the Alberta Embalming Board and past president of the Alberta Funeral Association, said to-day in an address at the fifty-first annual convention of the Ontario Funeral Service Association.

Elimination of "price advertising" in other parts of Canada was "lagging sadly behind" Alberta, Mr. Sheffield said.

Though the Alberta association is only six years old, "we have eliminated the word 'undertaker,' and not once in this used in all our provincial legislation," said Mr. Sheffield.

SHINGLE MEN OF B.C. MEET

Canadian Press

Vancouver, July 25. — Shingle manufacturers of British Columbia will meet here July 31 to discuss the recent agreement reached voluntarily between United States lumber exporters and Canadian lumber manufacturers limiting exports of red cedar shingles.

The export to the United States will be limited to 34 per cent of the domestic consumption there, but Vancouver operators state that figure is about 4 per cent more than they have been shipping during the last eighteen months.

With any increase in home-building, as is expected in many quarters, the Canadian export quota would automatically increase. Part of the agreement would have B.C. shippers comply with NRA code prices, also all shipments inspected and certified as to grade, and carrying a grade label. Ninety per cent of B.C. shippers have been complying with these practices in the past.

The agreement is said to have been accepted by the United States government, on the recommendation of the U.S. Tariff Commission.

New Tribunal Set Up To Deal With All Relief Cases

Board of Review to Pass on Applications Under New B.C. System; Can Also Fix Allowances to Suit Special Circumstances; Persons Entering Province After August 1 Ineligible For Aid

As the province-wide re-registration of unemployed commenced to-day, Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Mines, announced the setting up of a new tribunal to pass on all applications for relief.

It will be known as the Board of Review and will consist of H. T. Whitehead, assistant relief administrator, E. M. McConnan, investigator, and Hamilton Crisford, of the government employment office.

This board will have power to fix allowances according to the individual circumstance of each case, up to the maximum provided in the existing scale. In addition the board will recommend changes in policy from time to time to the minister.

The minister also announced that any persons entering the province after August 1 will not be eligible for relief. In making the statement, Mr. Pearson explained the new system of taking applications.

NEW PROCEDURE

"The procedure will be," he said, "that after a person or head of a family has applied for relief either the district investigator or one of the provincial traveling investigators will make a personal inquiry into the circumstances of the applicant on the ground, and he will then submit his report to the administrator of relief in Victoria. These reports will then be turned over to the board of review.

DOLLFUSS KILLED WITHOUT WARNING

Associated Press

Vienna, July 25.—Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss was shot without warning at the federal chancellery at 12.45 p.m. to-day by Nazis who entered the place in the uniforms of a Vienna regiment.

After Day of Conflicting Reports Official Statement From Austrian Capital Says Little Chancellor Slain; Emil Fey, Minister of Public Security, Among Leaders Surprised and Held Prisoner by Faction; Reports Say Ten Persons Killed; Half Hour of Machine-gun Fighting Seen in Vienna

Vienna, July 25 (Canadian Press - Havas).—Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss of Austria is dead, it was officially confirmed here to-night.

London, July 25.—The Austrian legation here confirmed the death of Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss of Austria and announced Dr. Kurt Schuschnigg was forming a new government.

The Exchange Telegraph Company (British) reported from Vienna to-night Emil Fey, Minister without portfolio, had broadcast an announcement of the death of Dollfuss at the hands of Nazis.

Canadian Press and Associated Press

Vienna, July 25 (By Telephone to Berlin).—At 8.15 this evening Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss, Emil Fey and several other government officials were still locked up and guarded at the Chancellery.

(This dispatch was sent before official confirmation of the death of Chancellor Dollfuss was issued).

The cabinet council held an extraordinary session in the offices of the Defence Ministry. The meeting was attended by Burgomaster Richard Schmidt, the police president, Eugene Seydel and the Austrian minister to Rome, Dr. Anton Rintelen.

The Minister of Justice and the general director of public safety in a public message stated the revolutionists who had occupied the radio station had been overpowered. All persons were warned martial law was still in force, and that any action against the lawful government of the country would be dealt with as high treason.

DETECTIVE'S REPORT

A police detective who was serving as a go-between the revolutionists and officials in the government building said Dollfuss was injured and lying on a sofa in the so-called yellow room.

The council communicated with President Miklas at Vieden, who gave instructions not to enter into negotiations with the invaders of the chancellery.

It was decided to detail another army battalion to duty about the building and to present the invaders with an ultimatum to surrender within a quarter of an hour, failing which the building would be attacked.

The first assault, it was decided, would be with tear gas.

Telephonic communication outside the country in any language besides German was forbidden to-night.

COMMANDER KILLED

Graz, Austria, July 25.—The gendarmerie post at Steinz was reported attacked by Nazis to-day, its commander killed and another wounded.

By Wade Werner, Associated Press Foreign Staff Writer

Vienna, July 25.—Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss, the little dictator who Ruled Austria for two years, was reported by a police commissioner to-day to have been shot and seriously wounded in the course of a Nazi "putsch" to capture the government of Austria.

Dollfuss was imprisoned in the federal chancellery by the Nazis. The police commissioner said he was wounded in fighting which went on inside the building.

(Later the Chancellor's death was announced).

The loyal Fascist Heimwehr and federal troops poured into the Ballhausplatz—the great square in front of the chancellery—as conflicting reports circulated throughout the city.

STARHEMBERG BUSY

The battling Prince Ernst von Starhemberg, head of the Heimwehr and Vice-Chancellor of Austria, escaped from the Nazi captors and immediately organized his own counter-action.

A diplomat in touch with him declared the Prince had sent an ultimatum to the Nazi leaders of the troops declaring Dollfuss and the other cabinet ministers held captive must be released at once or the army would attack the chancellery.

In the four hours from the time the "putsch" was launched, Vienna had experienced one half-hour of machine gun fighting and several pistol affrays.

One of the most widely accepted stories of how the Nazis captured Chancellor Dollfuss was as follows:

Mrs Anna Sage, in Custody in Chicago, Says Outlaw Made "Business Trip" to New York Shortly Before Detectives Killed Him

Associated Press

Chicago, July 25.—From the "girl in red" police learned to-day more about how John Dillinger walked into the trap that ended with death his career of crime.

The "girl in red," one of the two women who were with the Indiana outlaw just before he was killed by federal secret service men's bullets, is Mrs. Anna Sage, forty-two, brown-haired and brown-eyed. Police arrested her yesterday evening at her home just around the corner from the Biograph Theatre, out of which Dillinger walked unsuspectingly Sunday evening to his death.

Mrs. Sage said she knew John Dillinger as "Jim Lawrence, an employee of the Chicago board of trade."

ment's view with respect to the wage laws. He pointed out that while the minimum rates fixed by the board in some of its orders might be regarded in some quarters as not sufficiently high the primary object of the wage legislation was to prevent wages from sinking to unduly low levels.

Especially in the mercantile industry claims were submitted to the board for special scales to cover skilled workers but, for the present time, no action has been taken in this direction. What is needed, the minister explained, is the establishment of a basic rate upon which the wage structure of the province can be rebuilt to something like its former level.

If such a foundation can be laid, he said, the board will have accomplished much and subsequently it can make orders fixing higher wages for more skilled occupations.

TO RAISE BASIC RATES

"The most important duty confronting the board at the present time is to raise wages from the abnormally low levels to which they have been driven by a period of business and industrial depression," he added. "Owing to the conditions of the last few years the chaotic state of wage structures has left them without any foundation."

In ten orders passed so far, the board has covered the logging industry, sawmill industry, box manufacturing industry, taxi-cab driving and barbering as well as the mercantile business. As a result of these the wages of many thousands of employees have been substantially increased, the minister pointed out.

MANITOBA'S CROP OUTLOOK SPOTTY

Provincial Department of Agriculture Says Grain in Northern Areas Shows Much Improvement; Areas Near U.S. Border Have Little Grain

Canadian Press

Winnipeg, July 25.—Southeastern Manitoba is taking on the appearance of a desert as the drought-stricken district this year has extended over a greater area than ever before, says a summary of crop conditions issued by the Manitoba Department of Agriculture to-day.

A strip of land twenty to forty miles wide along the international boundary shows scarcely a single good field of grain as conditions have gone from bad to worse. Soil drifting was followed by clouds of grasshoppers, the summary continues, and hot, parching winds have withered whatever crop promised to mature.

"There really is not a single district west of the Red River valley close along the boundary that has anything like a decent crop," the summary says. Wheat "might" yield five to ten bushels an acre and oats and barley sufficient for seed purposes.

In the northern and eastern sections of Manitoba, however, conditions show sharp improvement. Conditions are good in the north, the report says, though more rain is needed.

DENIES NAZIS LED REVOLT

Exiled Leader Says Austrian Fight Is Between Dollfuss Factions

Associated Press

Berlin, July 25.—Alfred Frauenfeld, exiled Austrian Nazi leader, said over the long distance telephone from his Munich office to-day:

"The Austrian disturbances were in no wise instigated by the Nazis, but represent a revolt within the Dollfuss camp.

"The Dollfuss government has attempted a coup d'etat against the chancellor. They had the active support of the federal army and of excited public opinion.

"Prince von Starhemberg (Vice-Chancellor), we are convinced had nothing to do with the revolt.

"We believe the smouldering flames of opposition were fanned into an open fire by three recent events: First, bombing; second, death sentences imposed; third, promulgation of a law by which any Nazi can be dispossessed of his home."

INFORMATION AWAITED

Berlin, July 25.—Even the German legation at Vienna does not know what the Nazi "putsch" is all about, it was said by a foreign office spokesman here.

"Naturally we telephoned to our minister at Vienna immediately, and were told that all telephone service in the inner city had been interrupted," the spokesmen told The Associated Press.

"It was impossible for the German minister to get in touch with any of the Austrian government offices."

TWO CHIEF FACTORS

"All reports received by him agreed that Dollfuss, Fey and several others were prisoners in their offices, and that the putsch was being carried on by two sections, one group of the Heimwehr and the other of the army."

FROM VIENNA

Berlin, July 25.—The Austrian legation here received a communique from the official Austrian News Agency stating the Austrian radio station was again in the hands of government officers.

All alarming news sent out from the station while a group of Nazis controlled it was discredited.

Throughout Austria, the communique stated, perfect order prevailed.

MORE DEATHS IN HEAT WAVE

Toll in U.S. Mounts Toward 800; Reading of 117 Degrees in Oklahoma

Associated Press

Chicago, July 25.—The sun sieve attained its most severe proportions of the summer to-day, driving the number of deaths in the United States far above the 700 mark and drought damage toward billions of dollars.

Early relief was predicted for the midwest, however, while the east and Pacific coast enjoyed comparatively cool weather.

Government efforts to bring relief to the drought sections by buying stricken herds and shipping them to slaughter or southern pastures struck a snag. The Chicago stockyards strike and congestion at other livestock centres forced temporary suspension of purchases.

Heat deaths stood at 719 yesterday evening and mounted to 782 on incomplete reports to-day. In Missouri alone 205 persons perished, Illinois 150, Ohio 81, Nebraska 55, Iowa 50 and Indiana, with 13 new deaths, reported 38.

The highest official temperature recorded yesterday was 117 at Vinita, Okla.

Votes Counted In Big Riding

D. A. Hall Leads in Athabaska For Seat in Saskatchewan Legislature

Canadian Press

Saskatoon, July 25.—A forty-nine-year-old mining prospector, D. A. Hall, who represented the Cumberland constituency as a Liberal in the last Saskatchewan assembly, led the other candidate, Jules Marion, Ile a la Crosse trader, by 113 votes as counting was resumed to-day in the deferred Athabaska election. The Conservative and Farmer - Labor Parties did not enter candidates.

When counting ceased yesterday evening, twelve polls out of forty-two scattered across the northern portion of the province gave Hall 608 votes and Marion 495. Mr. Marion was elected Liberal member for Ile a la Crosse in the 1929 by-election.

Many of the polls will not be heard from for two or three days, so vast is the constituency to be canvassed.

Ile a la Crosse and Cumberland were merged in the redistribution act passed at the last session, to form the constituency of Athabaska. It is nearly as large in extent as England and Scotland, but its voting strength is placed at only 5,000.

Principal means of transportation are by canoe, horse or by foot. Airplanes were pressed into service to speed up tabulation of results.

Election of either candidate will give the Liberals a voting strength of fifty in the new Legislature. Five Farmer-Labor candidates were elected in the general election June 19. Conservatives failed to win a seat.

Athabaska was the only constituency in which polling was deferred.

No word had been received in Victoria this morning regarding the placing of Ss. H. F. Alexander in service. She was to have started her season between Victoria, Seattle and California ports, with sailings from Victoria each Tuesday evening, late in May. She has also been idle in San Francisco harbor.

It is expected ships operating between Victoria and California ports will be booked to capacity during the remainder of the tourist season.

Subsequently, about one-third of the properties, which in all total about 5,000 acres, were sold on agreements to settlers. Approximately $200,000 was collected on these by the company, but a few years after the war it became defunct. As a result, the title reverted to the crown, and despite the investment many settlers had made in the property they were unable to get title, although some had completed payments.

In taking over the property, the government has agreed to pay off the mortgage at its face value of $50,000 and also to reimburse Mrs. Lowe for $38,000 in taxes which she has paid over the last eight years to protect her own interests.

Besides the $235,000 owing on agreements, the government will also take over the rest of the unsold land which is said to be fully irrigated and excellent for fruit farming purposes.

In view of the government proposals to encourage an active land settlement policy, the deal is taken as foreshadowing a probable move in this direction.

New Tribunal Set Up To Deal With All Relief Cases

who will pass on the eligibility of the applicant and also set the allowance according to the individual circumstances in each case."

WORK FOR RELIEF

Under the new plan all male heads of families and single men will be required to work for the relief received and will be paid in cash at the rate of forty cents an hour after August 1:

If a person is physically able to perform work and refuses to do so or deliberately malingers on the job he will automatically be cut off relief. His family, if he is married, will be provided with the necessaries of life by scrip.

Foremen in charge of relief crews will be authorized to discharge anyone who will not perform a reasonable day's work.

Mr. Pearson also explained in further detail the new registration system.

MORE INFORMATION

"More detailed information will be obtained with a view of ascertaining not only the last occupation of the individual applying for relief, but to also find out what other trades have been followed in the past," he said.

"Much more detailed information is required from farmers in a special application form designed for their sole use. To a certain extent the purpose is to find out what effort the individual has made to improve the farm and to market his produce. Where farmers claim that they are unable to find markets, efforts will be made to assist them in doing so. In addition to this, where farmers have laid down on the job simply because they were getting enough relief to carry them, they will be reduced to the same scale as the farmer under exactly the same circumstances who has grown his own garden produce and looked after his stock.

"A separate form will be used for all transients, both families and single persons. On this form details of their movements over several years will be taken and it will be ascertained why they entered the province and what assistance or means transportation was provided."

KING OF SWEDEN HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Canadian Press from Havas

Stockholm, July 25.—King Gustav of Sweden, who was seventy-six years old in June, narrowly missed being killed or very seriously injured by a car as he walked along a road at Bastad, where he attended a tennis match, the newspaper Tagens Nyheter reported to-day.

An Austrian tennis player named Matejka, who was near the monarch, saw the approaching car in time and succeeded in pulling King Gustav clear an instant before the car rushed past.

"Girl In Red" Tells Of Dillinger's Acts

WENT TO NEW YORK

The "girl in red" told police of the last woman Dillinger associated with—Mrs. Roy Keale, twenty-six-year-old divorced wife of an Indiana policeman—of how Dillinger spent his time just prior to the shooting, and of how he said he had gone to New York recently "on a business trip."

He was also reported to have witnessed a Chicago ball game.

Mrs. Sage admitted, police said, that Dillinger had been in her apartment "three or four evenings."

The "girl in red" told Captain John Stege that Dillinger had come to her house last Sunday evening, when he played cards with Mrs. Keale, whose picture, police said they learned, was in Dillinger's watch.

Preparations were completed in Indiana to-day for the funeral of the late bandit to-morrow. In the Chicago district federal agents and policemen worked feverishly to find the hideouts and possibly money caches of the desperado, slain after a violent career of fifteen murders, numerous robberies and spectacular but lucky escapes.

STORY OF TRAP

The story of how Dillinger was trapped, as interpreted by The Chicago Daily News yesterday, follows:

East Chicago, Indiana, police several weeks ago learned there was a girl for whom Dillinger had taken a fancy, but who did not reciprocate, preferring an ex-convict. Through the ex-convict, the girl agreed to trap the outlaw for a price. A second girl played a minor role.

The two women moved from Indiana to the north side of Chicago, and through the ex-convict met Dillinger.

Three East Chicago policemen knew virtually every move Dillinger made, and planned to kidnap him from in front of the Biograph Theatre, which he attended habitually. The two girls, apprised of the plot, wanted to back out of their bargain, but were assured they would be amply protected.

The Indiana officers engaged a room in a Loop hotel, to which they planned to take Dillinger. For a week preceding last Sunday, Capt. Timothy O'Neil and Sergt. Martin Zarkovich watched nightly from a parked car in front of the theatre and watched Dillinger buy tickets for each change of programme, sometimes he was accompanied by the ex-convict's sweetheart, and sometimes by both women.

The trap was set, but was upset by a policeman's aroused suspicions. On Sunday night Dillinger emerged with the two trembling women. As they neared the alley Officer Glen Stretch of East Chicago, Zarkovich and Purvis were only a few feet behind him. Across the street was coming Sergt. William Conroy.

ASKED FOR CREDENTIALS

A Chicago policeman, assigned to the theatre from the Sheffield Avenue Police Station, was suspicious of the Purvis-O'Neil men's actions. He started after them, calling:

"Hey, you! Who are you? You have to show your credentials."

As Stretch was about to seize Dillinger by the shoulder, an agent retorted to the policeman: "We're government men."

The fugitive heard the commotion and reached for his pistol. Then came the shooting.

The News said Capt. O'Neil insisted he did not know the identity of the two women—only that of the ex-convict.

FUNERAL IN INDIANA

Maywood, Ind., July 25.—"Wooden Gun" John Dillinger lay in death today in the home of the sister who reared him as an obscure country boy before he "made bad" as the most-hunted criminal in the United States.

John Dillinger Sr., elderly and respected farmer, brought the body of his notorious son home Tuesday from Chicago, where the outlaw's career was ended by bullets of federal agents Sunday night.

Word the body of the bank robber was in Mooresville brought out thousands of curiosity-seekers.

The funeral will be held to-morrow from the home here of Mrs. Audrey Hancock, sister of the late John.

Austrian Chancellor Slain In Uprising

He, with Emil Fey, Minister of Public Security, and Minister Jaretmsky, was captured by Nazis disguised as Heimwehr and army officers who had forced their way into the Chancellor's office.

Previously, 300 similarly disguised Nazis had forced their way into the Heimwehr barracks in the seventh district, seizing machine guns, rifles and a large quantity of ammunition. Then the main group proceeded to the chancellery, overpowering two sentries who remained outside barricading the doors.

This report further declared the three prisoners were held as hostages on the threats that they would be killed if the Heimwehr attacked the building.

It is known definitely Fey appeared twice on the balcony of the building to speak to the officers outside. Following one of these appearances, the regular troops which had drawn up before the building, marched away.

Fey himself gave the express command for them to withdraw. His action was interpreted as perhaps being a part of the negotiations—ordered by the Nazis—to release the prisoners.

MORE CONFUSION

The police commissioner also said Anton Rintelen, Austrian Minister to Rome, would take over the chancellorship. A Neustadter storm trooper, however, said he had come from President Miklas to announce that Dr. Kurt Schuschnigg, Minister of Justice and Education, would take over the government and that all other reports were without force. This threw the whole situation into confusion again.

It was certain only that the members of the Nazi "putsch" held government members prisoners in the chancellery.

TRENCH MORTARS THERE

Although, at Fey's command, soldiers withdrew from the Ballhausplatz, thirty army trucks carrying machine guns, trench mortars and other equipment appeared on the square before the nearby Burgtheatre. Two armored cars and several ambulances also were held in readiness.

It was at this time government leaders in the hands of Nazis gave the "putsch" leaders twenty minutes to release their captives.

At the end of four hours of mad excitement, civilians at the Chancellery cried:

"Dollfuss is dead"

They had just left the building into which a group of Nazis had smashed and from which a police commissioner had emerged to announce the chief of the government had been shot and seriously wounded in a struggle. There was no way of getting into the Chancellery to confirm or disprove the report.

At least six men (reports received in London said ten) were reported killed in the street fighting which immediately flared up in Vienna and at other points in Austria.

GREAT CONFUSION

Vienna, July 25.—Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss and his cabinet were captured to-day by Austrian Nazis.

All of the government heads were held as prisoners in the federal chancellery on the Ballhausplatz.

The Nazi "putsch" was launched with the utmost public confusion.

An announcement Dollfuss had resigned to be succeeded by Dr. Anton Rintelen, a pro-Nazi and often previously mentioned for the chancellorship, was broadcast over the official government radio but was denied by the official Austrian news agency.

The broadcast threw the general public into bewilderment. The populace saw armed police dash through the streets.

The radio station was surrounded by Fascist Heimwehr (Home Guard) troops.

The announcement of the capture of Dollfuss was made by the commander of the Heimwehr troops which surrounded the federal chancellery and demanded the liberation of Emil Fey, Minister without portfolio in the cabinet and a leader of the Heimwehr.

"If Fey is not out of here in ten minutes, we attack," the officer shouted to the guard posted at the entrance to the chancellery.

He then turned to an Associated Press correspondent and declared:

"The entire government is imprisoned there in the hands of the Nazis."

MACHINE GUNS

Machine guns were immediately posted at strategic points on the roofs of buildings throughout the city.

It was not immediately clear how the rival political groups were lining up.

Federal police, armed with rifles with fixed bayonets, moved into the square in front of the federal chancellery in an attempt to drive the Heimwehr troops away from the building.

As this was being written, shortly after 2.30 p.m., shooting had not commenced, but rifle fire could be heard from the direction of the radio broadcasting studio in the inner city.

Before the fighting had long been under way, it was definitely established one person had been killed and several wounded.

STORES CLOSED

The business district was paralyzed. Shopowners had pulled down the steel shutters over their show windows. The branch post office near the chancellery was being used as a munition depot.

Machine guns posted on top of the Finance Ministry roared out, pouring bullets into the Austrian radio broadcasting studio nearby from which the announcement had been made of "Dollfuss's resignation."

Meanwhile, it was reported from Klagenfurt, Carinthia, the federal army had taken prisoner Wilhelm Miklas, President of Austria.

HEIMWEHR'S FIGHT

Commanders of Heimwehr troops declared they were fighting against a Nazi "Putsch." Police and federal troops were in control of the Ballhausplatz in front of the federal chancellery. It was reported the putsch began when eight men, wearing Heimwehr uniforms, forced their way into the radio studio and killed a police inspector who was on guard there while a broadcast was in progress.

They then are supposed to have forced the broadcaster to announce over the microphone that Dollfuss had resigned and Rinteleu had been made chancellor.

The studio was riddled with bullets from the machine guns, but a radio programme went on. The defenders of the studio played a dance record that all who were tuned in might hear.

MOBILIZATION REPORT

It was reported a general mobilization order had been issued at Heimwehr headquarters.

A battalion of the regular army with full field equipment, many of the soldiers carrying grenades in their hands, marched through the streets in the general direction of the Ballhausplatz.

The apparent Nazi "putsch" extended to Innsbruck shortly before 3 p.m., when the commander of the Innsbruck police, Captain Hichel, was shot and killed before the Tyrol state government building. Two youths, reportedly Nazis, were arrested.

Hichel was transferred from Vienna a year ago and devoted his whole energy to putting down the Nazis.

ANXIETY IN FRANCE

Paris, July 25.—Official circles here to-day expressed worry over the danger to Chancellor Dollfuss of an Austrian Nazi "putsch."

France is pledged to the support of Austrian independence and fears a Nazi revolution in that country might lead to international complications.

France has been particularly friendly to Dollfuss because the government here thought he was best able to maintain a stable administration in Austria.

SURPRISE IN BERLIN

Berlin, July 25.—The Propaganda Ministry and the Foreign Office of Germany appeared greatly surprised to-day when they were told of events in Austria.

"This is the first I have heard of it," said the press officer on duty in the Propaganda Ministry.

At the Foreign Office, the press liaison officer in charge commented:

"I regard the news as absolute nonsense. Some Nazis, or possibly even someone else, apparently somehow got hold of the Vienna radio station and sent out the news about an alleged Nazi putsch."

Rome, July 25.—Officials of the Austrian legation here, after a telephone call to Vienna, said the Nazi "putsch" at Vienna had been suppressed.

The Nazi effort to seize the government "died still born," the legation said.

Legation officials said the Nazis had forced their way into the government radio station, and they had broadcast a report that Chancellor Dollfuss had resigned and that he had been taken prisoner.

Officials added that general police had quickly driven the Nazis from the radio station, and that Dollfuss was now in complete control of the situation, with the army guarding the public buildings and the police running down groups of Nazis in the outlying districts of Vienna.

The legation said the Heimwehr had not figured in the "putsch."

FLAYS POLICY OF BRITAIN

Labor Party Says National Government United Only Against Socialism

Canadian Press from Havas

London, July 25.—The British Labor Party yesterday published its manifesto for the Southport congress in October, beginning with a strong attack on the policy of the National Government.

"In every field," it ran, "the policy presents a spectacle of moral and political bankruptcy. The members of the government are united on nothing except their desire to prevent the coming of Socialism."

The party presented a plan which it was stated, the government should not fail to offer at Geneva. It called for, among other things:

1. The abolition of all arms forbidden to the Central Powers by the peace treaties, and the application of a system of control and guarantees.

2. Limitation of arms budgets.

3. Abolition of military air forces and the internationalization of civil aviation, with the creation of an international police and strict supervision of the manufacture and traffic in arms.

4. Non-aggression treaties reinforced by the system of sanctions provided by the League of Nations.

AID FOR NEEDY LIVESTOCK AREAS

Government of Manitoba Draws Up Plans For Next Winter

Canadian Press

Winnipeg, July 25.—Thousands of head of livestock in drought-stricken areas of Manitoba will be fed next winter through the co-operation of the provincial government and municipalities, according to present plans drawn up by the government.

Urging the setting up of an inter-municipal committee, the government proposes two methods of obtaining feed. One plan will permit individual livestock owners to make direct arrangements with farmers in other districts, aided by government funds. The second will involve shipping cattle out of the dried-out districts to northern feeding grounds.

The province will pay one-third of the cost, including freight, of feed shipped into the drought areas for cattle, necessarily retained there, and wil ask the Dominion Government to defray one-third of the cost of freight.

LEGISLATION TEST FOR NRA

Washington, July 25.—Senator Gerald Nye, North Dakota, Republican, yesterday disclosed he would propose a substitute for the NRA at the next session of the United States Congress which would virtually eliminate the Blue Eagle unit as it now stands.

The North Dakota senator said the legislation he planned would remove the power to insert fair practice provisions in NRA codes. The recovery organization would be left authority to deal only with wages, hours, child labor and other conditions of employment.

Once shorn of its present broad authority, the NRA would be placed under the federal trade commission.

Nye, one of the most outspoken critics of the NRA, contended the organization headed by Hugh S. Johnson had been a "flat failure" as far as any real contribution to recovery was concerned.

Washington, July 25. — President Roosevelt was described yesterday evening by Senator Hastings, Delaware Republican, as "the great spender" who has been "hypnotizing" the people of the United States to follow him in a "haphazard programme."

Hastings, co-chairman of the Republican senatorial - congressional committee, made these assertions in a speech that was one of the first in the party's campaign to capture more Senate and House seats in the November elections.

WHEAT PRICE GOES UP

Hon. Hugh W. Allen, above, is one of the new members of the reorganized cabinet of Alberta, headed by Premier R. G. Reid. He is Minister of Lands and Mines and Municipal Affairs. Born at Stella, Ontario, Mr. Allen is a graduate in chemistry who took up farming in the Peace River Country. He was elected M.P.P. for Peace River in 1926, and in 1930 was returned by acclamation for the new riding of Grande Prairie.

New Trade Treaty Moves Delayed

Associated Press

London, July 25.—The House of Commons yesterday learned the government still considers the time unripe for an anglo-American trade treaty.

Rt. Hon. Walter Runciman, president of the Board of Trade, when asked by Dingle Foot, Liberal member, as to what steps, if any, he proposed to take to negotiate a trade agreement with the United States, replied:

"I do not think the government could, at the present time, usefully propose such negotiation."

JAPANESE IN NAVAL DEBATE

Strong Section Wants Government to Denounce Washington Treaty

Associated Press

Tokio, July 25.—Although powerful influences are at work to commit the government to a policy of denunciation of the Washington Naval Treaty, Japan's decision on the question will be postponed until results of preliminary conversations in London, to be resumed in October, are made clear.

A high government spokesman told the Associated Press this to-day.

Tokio, July 25.—Great Britain and the United States acceding on Japan's insistence, have definitely agreed political issues will not be discussed at the 1935 naval conference, a spokesman for the Foreign Office asserted to-day.

The spokesman said one concrete accomplishment of last month's preliminary talks at London was an agreement of the powers to exclude political questions, especially those involving China, from the 1935 conference.

"This," he said, "was a very wise decision, because the inclusion of such issues would greatly diminish the conference's chances of successful issue."

Japanese naval officials are continuing their campaign of propaganda and pressure, seeking to compel civilian members of the government, especially Foreign Minister Koki Hirota, to accept their principles.

DRIVE AGAINST REDS GOES ON

In San Francisco Bay Area, Request Libraries Eliminate Communistic Books

Associated Press

San Francisco, July 25.—The drive against asserted Communists continues in various San Francisco Bay communities as additional arrests are made. The Alameda County board of supervisors has been asked to ban communistic literature from county libraries.

Five men and a woman were arrested yesterday in a raid here and held as vagrants pending a jury trial, which they demanded. They were Jack Olson, twenty-four, identified by police as a Communist candidate for state senator; Samuel Prince, twenty-two; William Newman, Harold Johnson, twenty-one, David G. Lyon, twenty-eight, who, officers said, was formerly on the editorial staff of the University of California student daily, and Theresa Landale, twenty-one, former University of California co-ed.

Judge Sylvain J. Lazarus, who Monday evening dismissed eighty-four Communist suspects and distributed half-dollars among them, yesterday sentenced John Butchenoff, a Russian, to thirty days in jail for distributing radical literature he said "was the most atrocious and incendiary I ever read."

Twenty-seven persons were stricken from Contra Costa County relief rolls for asserted Communist affiliations.

FRANCE HAS BIG WHEAT CROP

Paris, July 25 (Canadian Press Cable via Reuter's).—A wheat crop 15 per cent better than last year is reported from La Vendee district, where harvesting has already begun. A large crop seems in prospect generally over France, promising to intensify the problem of the big French surplus.

Motion pictures received for showing in Dairen, Manchuria, in a recent month consisted of 71 Japanese, 23 American, 1 German and 7 Chinese films.

DICTATOR OF OPINION NOW

Powers of Propaganda Minister Goebbels in Germany Increased

Canadian Press from Havas

Berlin, July 25.—Dr. Joseph Goebbels, Reich Minister of Propaganda and Enlightenment, has been given added powers in his department and made virtually dictator of all public opinion and demonstration in the Reich.

An official communique yesterday gave the propaganda minister the right to control relations between his colleagues in the government and the press.

The statement declared Dr. Goebbels was responsible for all that concerned the informing of the public on political, intellectual, artistic and economic matters, as well as controlling news from foreign sources.

He would control, it further stated, all receptions and invitations coming from the authorities of the Reich and the Nazi party.

HYDRO DEAL IS INVESTIGATED

Inquiry Into Ontario Transaction May Reach End Next Week

Toronto, July 25.—The royal commission inquiry into the Ontario Hydro - Electric Commission deal whereby it acquired assets of the Ontario-Power Service Corporation, may be terminated by the end of next week. A. G. Slaght, K.C., commission counsel, expressed this opinion during yesterday afternoon's session, at which J. R. Cooke, former chairman of the Hydro Commission, was examined by him and by J. C. McRuer, K.C., counsel for the Hydro Commission.

During the session, Mr. Cooke answered, among others, questions directed to ascertain his knowledge or lack of knowledge of ownership by former Premier George S. Henry and Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, government leader in the Senate of Canada, of O.P.S.C. bonds before, during, and after the time negotiations were in progress that resulted in an exchange of $18,000,000 Hydro Commission bonds for $20,000,000 bonds of the company.

The former chairman said he could not recall if Mr. Meighen revealed his possession of $8,000 worth of O.P.S.C. bonds on or after August 2, 1932, when the Hydro Commission passed a resolution recommending the bond deal plan to the government. Nor could he recall it, at the same time, the senator revealed holdings of the bonds by companies with which he was associated.

Mr. Slaght demanded to know if Mr. Meighen had obtained from Mr. Cooke information regarding the precarious financial position of the O.P.S.C. prior to the bond deal. Mr. Cooke said he had not, and that he himself, as a cabinet minister, was not in a position to divulge such information.

Senator Meighen some time ago resigned as a member of the Hydro Commission.

MINISTERS TO HEAR REQUESTS

But Ontario Premier Will Be in Ottawa When Hunger Marchers in Toronto

Canadian Press

Toronto, July 25 — When the hunger marching men employed from various Ontario centres reach Toronto July 30 they will not see Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn. Neither will they meet Hon. David Croll, Minister of Welfare, who has charge of relief activities.

By a coincidence the hunger march is billed for the same day as the Provincial-Dominion conference at Ottawa and both Mr. Hepburn and Mr. Croll will be at the federal capital along with Hon. Paul Leduc, Minister of Mines. The Premier said it was unfortunate the two events would fall on the same day, but the rest of the cabinet would have to receive any representations the hunger marchers had to make.

CREATION DATE NOT LEGISLATED

Associated Press

Little Rock, Ark., July 25.—The Arkansas Legislature has never fixed by statute the date of the world's creation. Attorney-General Hal Norwood so informed a New York law firm which inquired when the law was passed.

"It was passed by our legislature at the time the legislature of your state passed the act repealing the law of gravitation and amending the Ten Commandments," he replied.

SECOND CAPTURE

Washington, July 25 (Canadian Press).—Patrolman Maurice A. Rizey, who made one capture in the Argonne, found his man again in Rock Creek Park here. In the Great War Rizey captured a Prussian lieutenant. The other night, Rizey, patrolling the park, caught a speeder. "You still look pretty tough," the man said. "I guess you don't remember. You got me once before and now you've got me again." That was one speeder who didn't get a ticket.

SNOW ON HIGHWAY

Denver, July 25 (Associated Press) —Tourists battled with snowballs from a fresh snowfall fifty miles from Denver yesterday. Grey clouds shrouded Mount Evans, 14,260 feet high, at the end of what is called the highest automobile road in the United States, and soon a heavy snow began falling. A covering of snow an inch deep blanketed the peak.

After serving as footman in the royal household of England for forty-two years, William Dowsett has just retired on pension, having reached the age limit of seventy.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

NEW CANDIDATES IN OKLAHOMA

Associated Press

Oklahoma City, July 25. — Oklahoma Democratic voters "X-ed" out the names of two veteran congressmen in Tuesday's runoff primary.

Tom McKeown, who first won his fourth district seat in 1916 by defeating W. H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray, now governor, and Jim V. McClintic, member of the powerful House ways and means committee, who has represented the seventh district for twenty years, were beaten.

McKeown went down before the second onslaught of P. L. Gasaway, colorful "cowboy" Judge, whose crackling wit, ten-gallon hat and black string tie are always with him. McClintic bowed to Sam Massingale, Cordell attorney.

Will Rogers, congressman-at-large, was leading in his race for renomination against Henry S. Johnston, impeached and removed as governor five years ago. Other incumbent congressmen, Wilbur Cartwright and Jed Johnson, apparently won renomination.

MAN FREED OF MURDER CHARGE

San Francisco, July 25.—The question, "Who killed Louise Jeppesen?" remained unanswered to-day as Millard Hickman, forty-six-year-old marine engineer, was freed of the charge that it was he who strangled the Ogden, Utah, girl in Golden Gate Park last May.

A superior court jury yesterday evening found Hickman innocent of the murder.

In its efforts to send Hickman to the gallows, the state had built up a circumstantial case, charging that after a gay party he attacked the Jeppesen girl in his apartment, then had driven her to Golden Gate Park and killed her because of fear she might accuse him.

MARTIN FLYNN PASSES AWAY

Canadian Press

Glasgow, July 25.—For nearly fifty years custodian of Abbotsford, the famous home of Sir Walter Scott, Martin Flynn died yesterday at the age of ninety-three.

King Edward, King George and Queen Mary were among the many distinguished visitors to whom Mr. Flynn had the honor at different times of showing the treasures of Abbotsford.

Device to Prevent Explosions Tested

Canadian Press

Winnipeg, July 25.—A small wire cylinder attached to a gasoline container that will prevent an explosion when the gasoline catches fire was demonstrated here yesterday by Henry Horn, young inventor of this city. The attachment consists of a core of fine wire mesh placed inside the container.

A soft solder plug acts as an emergency valve on the same principle as that employed in a fire sprinkler system.

The attachment can be installed on any size container and fitted to any type of vehicle. Aviators, members of the local fire commission and officials of the military district were interested spectators at tests.

THREE-YEAR SENTENCE

Vancouver, July 25 (Canadian Press)—Three years in penitentiary was the sentence imposed by Magistrate W. M. McKay in the Vancouver police court yesterday on Jack Joyson, who pleaded guilty to a charge of robbery with violence in connection with the hold-up of Chin Fong in a store at 945 Commercial Drive on July 12 and theft of $13 in cash. George McLeod, who was arrested with Joyson, also pleaded guilty to a similar charge and was remanded till Thursday for sentence.

VICTORIA AND COMMUNITY

IN CONSIDERING THE OFFICIAL census figures for this municipality the distinction between the Victoria community and the incorporated City of Victoria can not be over-emphasized for the information and reaction of the outside world. It is always necessary to point out that a large proportion of Victoria's citizens reside in adjoining municipalities which, for the most part, are physically indistinguishable from the city itself, and that as the proportion is likely to increase, the census totals can not fairly reveal the actual population of the community. All this is well understood by residents of the four inter-related municipalities, but it is not appreciated by most outsiders in the more remote centres.

Naturally this tendency of Victoria residents to establish homes in the neighboring municipalities, most of which are within a four-mile radius from the City Hall, complicates the city's financial situation in the sense that it diminishes the municipal revenue, keeps taxation up and involves the reversion of property in tax arrears. The problem arising from this condition may become increasingly difficult as time goes by, and strong, comprehensive measures will have to be taken for its solution. Incidentally, the problem is not purely local, since the fact that the city is the provincial capital gives it a provincial interest, and it therefore eventually must be one for the Legislature to assist in solving.

In the matter of unemployment, of course, Victoria is not unique among the municipalities of Canada. All of them are confronted with distracting conditions in this respect, and many of them are more uncomfortably situated than our community. It is almost axiomatic that none of them can bear additional burdens in consequence of any withdrawal by the federal government of its proportion for unemployment relief. While it is true that during the last six months there has been a noticeable improvement in economic conditions throughout the country, the situation is still much too serious for the federal government to consider any relaxation of its programme of relief for provinces and municipalities, especially in British Columbia which has been something of a dumping ground for unemployed from other parts of Canada. All this is so obvious to everybody at all able to see that it is hardly necessary to fortify any protest with statistical detail.

A MESSAGE OF HOPE

NOT VERY MANY YEARS AGO THE person who developed tuberculosis was regarded as more or less doomed; but it is no longer the devastating disease it used to be, and Dr. Gordon Kenning's address to the Kiwanis Club yesterday was a message of hope for those who are suffering from it. He explained to his lay audience that by the application of artificial pneumothorax it is now possible to turn off the fountain of tubercular infection better than the medical profession could ever hope to do by the isolation of individual cases.

Treatment by the old method, of course, meant that the sufferer went to bed for an indefinite period and his general condition built up by nourishing food and complete rest. The responsive patient, provided he was able to relax mentally as well as physically, got well and, by taking care of himself after the disease had been arrested, could look forward to a normal span of life. So many people, however, have not been able to give up and submit to proper treatment. They have remained at their jobs until the gradual progress of the disease has broken down all their resistance. Not only is this advanced condition serious for the sufferer, it also very often means that healthy persons are exposed to errors of living which a T.B. patient is taught to avoid while under treatment—in his own behalf and to prevent the spread of infection to others.

It is good to learn from Dr. Kenning that fifty per cent of all "open" cases, cases in which the sputum is positive, could be "closed" within a few weeks by the treatment he had described. Thousands of cases of tuberculosis could be quickly and effectively arrested if the disease were caught in its incipient stage and the patient given proper directions. This is where government agencies can do good work in the preventive field. As far as British Columbia is concerned there need be no hesitation on the part of anybody getting a thorough examination by the government's own specialist. The family doctor can arrange this and it is free.

Any person about whom there is the slightest suspicion should have his or her mind set at rest by this examination. If the suspicions are groundless it is much better to get the point settled at once. If the disease is present, we have Dr. Kenning's assurance that it can be attacked and defeated, and it was this assurance that imparted great interest to his address to the Kiwanis Club.

DESTRUCTION AND CONSTRUCTION

NEWSPAPER STOCKTAKERS OF THE New Deal in the United States are beginning to compare the cost of the Roosevelt policies, what they have already achieved and what is still expected of them, with the expenditure on the war and money loaned which may never be paid back. The bill for the war is put down at $23,400,000,000 and loans at $12,000,000,000, or $35,400,000,000 altogether. The two-year budget for the first half of the Roosevelt administration runs to a total of approximately $16,000,000,000, of which a little more than half has gone or is going to recovery agencies.

Sixteen billion dollars is a staggering sum and it is perhaps not surprising that some people are wondering whether what is being done is worth the money. One commentator observes that there are two ways of approaching the answer to this question. He says: "For a war out of which we stood to gain nothing, and did gain nothing, we sent something like thirty-five billions down the chute." There is no way of putting a monetary value on the sorrow and suffering that went along with this money, but they are desolating even to think about.

"For a struggle to break loose from a depression which has wrecked homes, taken lives, destroyed hope, and caused hunger, disillusionment, and great despair, we have committed ourselves so far to spend sixteen billions—a little less than half of what we put into the war.

"Thirty-five billions for destruction—destruction of men's bodies and of property; half of that for construction. Is this second sum out of line? All of this, to be sure, does not prove that we are getting the best possible results for our money, or that these reconstruction funds are being spent in the wisest possible manner. That is a question which should and will be aired thoroughly in the congressional campaign.

"But it does show that the mere fact that we are spending $16,000,000,000 to get out of the depression is not, in itself, anything to frighten us. We spent twice that much on a war that almost wrecked the world."

BETTER TERMS

PREMIER PATTULLO AND SEVERAL of his ministers have left for Ottawa in response to an invitation from the Dominion Prime Minister, and while there will urge the appointment of a royal commission to consider British Columbia's case for better terms in connection with the financial relations between the Dominion and province. If a commission should be appointed it would not be the first occasion on which an investigation of this kind was requested by British Columbia. Twenty-seven years ago Better Terms for the province was a live political issue and the McBride administration won an election with it.

The Laurier government at Ottawa called a provincial conference, the outcome of which was an increase in the federal subsidy to the province for a term of years, the change involving an amendment to the B.N.A. Act. The increased grant, however, was not regarded as satisfactory by the McBride government which sporadically continued the agitation. When the Laurier government was succeeded by the Borden ministry in 1911, the appointment of a royal commission was urged, and finally Ottawa somewhat tardily set about appointing one. More delay ensued and the commission was still-born, the outbreak of war interrupting any further proceedings.

The federal government also has undertaken to hear a similar case from the three Maritime Provinces. A few years ago in consequence of an agitation energetically and effectively promoted, the Duncan Commission was appointed to inquire into what was called Maritime Claims, and recommended special treatment for the Atlantic provinces in regard to freight rates, the coke industry and technical education, while increased financial grants also were made by the federal government for a year. The Maritime Provinces are on their toes again, so that Ottawa is confronted with demands for Better Terms from both ends of the Canadian provincial chain. It is not improbable that the prairie provinces also will have their own particular recommendations to make. The forthcoming gathering at Ottawa, therefore, will cover a wide field and may result in far-reaching constitutional changes.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

BRITISH INVENTION

The Border Cities Star

A simple device patented by a Cheshire engineer at Wallasey may revolutionize the design of motor cars, and possibly of ships and airplanes, "Industrial Britain" announces. Its inventor claims that the device will do the work of a clutch and gear, and will cost substantially less to manufacture than either of these units at the present time.

The model of the invention consists of two steel cones covered with brake-lining placed side by side so that the apex of each cone is in a line with the base of the other, the adjacent surfaces being parallel but not touching one another. One cone is coupled to the engine and the other to the shaft.

A small wheel with a heat-proof tire transmits the drive from one cone to the other by means of a lever and spring. The wheel can be moved either towards the apex of the driving-cone or in the other direction, and this movement results in changing the gear ratio. The inventor states that an almost infinite number of variations between the ratio of 5 to 1 and 1 to 6 can be obtained on cones less than a foot long.

BISHOP ON DIVORCES

Time

"Since no one else has said it publicly and it seems to many of us that it needs to be said, let me give brief expression to our sense of shame and humiliation that in the family of our Chief Executive there should be recorded two Reno divorces, wit hone 'remarriage' and another in the offing, in a year.

"That so little sense of the moral responsibilities of high position should be manifested by the family . . . seems to us to be a family disgrace, a disgrace to the nation, and a disgrace to the church of which the family are members and in which they are occasional worshippers. There have been some expressions of pride among churchmen in having a fellow churchman, a parish warden and vestryman, and a cathedral trustee, as President. Pride came before a fall. Humiliation has followed. We need another 'new deal.'"

Thus in last week's Living Church did a high-placed Episcopal bishop speak out for the first time against the divorces within the Episcopalian family of President Roosevelt.

A THOUGHT

Will a man rob God? Yet ye have robbed me. But ye say, Wherein have we robbed thee? In tithes and offerings.—Malachi iii 8.

Nothing is more easy than to deceive one's self, as our affections are subtle pleaders.—Demosthenes.

Loose Ends

Oh, yes, undoubtedly we are getting better every day in every way—more good news from Atlin or the Kootenays, where they're still tunneling along—and some dull reflections from England about the Good Old Way.

By E. E. W.

GETTING BETTER

COMMENTING ON Mr. Bernard Shaw's statement that we have provided sanctuaries all over the world for wild animals, but none for men, The Vancouver Province writes a hopeful Pollyanna editorial to say that things aren't as bad as they seem. It is true, says The Province, that mankind, preparing to blow itself to pieces in the next War to End War, looks pretty savage, but there has been progress. We have come a long way from the cave and the Middle Ages. We are getting better.

But no proofs of this pleasant statement are produced; probably because they are extremely difficult to find. Just about the time The Province was saying that, Mr. Wickham Steed, the famous British editor, was announcing the discovery that European governments have perfected and tested out in foreign countries a system of spreading fatal epidemics among civilian populations as the surest way of winning the next War to End Civilization. The arrangements for this scientific mass massacre are quite complete, I gather from Mr. Steed, and a few foreign agents with a half dozen test tubes can plant the germs of an epidemic to wipe out millions of people, who will never hear the sound of the guns. This is a convincing proof that we are marching further and further away from the cave, because obviously the ignorant cave men knew nothing of test tubes and microbes.

But I suppose it could be said that if our ancestors in the Middle Ages had possessed the means of such destruction they would have used them even more savagely than we propose to do. As individuals they were undoubtedly more cruel than we are. They only lacked our experience and ability in scientific slaughter. On that basis, you can argue that we are getting better. This will be a highly comforting reflection to the people who are bombed, gassed or killed by plague in the next war. They can reflect that this might have happened to them in the Middle Ages if they had known about gas bombs and germs at that time. They can reflect that despite outside appearances, we are getting better. This, no doubt, will cheer them up immensely.

GOOD NEWS

HERE IS further good news from our mine, the Golden Calf, which never fails to go through a week without some startling new development. You may recall, if you are an expert mining man like me, that we recently suffered a serious reverse at the Golden Calf. Just as we were tunneling along in carefree fashion, it was reported that we had suddenly hit a vein of ore, an eventuality for which we had not prepared. This seemed to mean the end of our carefree tunneling days. It seemed to mean that we would have to put up a mill (not to speak of a good deal of additional cash) and get right down to business. This, of course, was a terrific blow and even though the stock rose 2 cents on the market (almost to half what we had paid for it) we still felt very depressed.

But I am glad to announce that news has just come from Atlin or the Kootenays—the Golden Calf is somewhere about there—that the first report was entirely wrong, no doubt a base canard launched by the wicked stock brokers, who are trying to corral our stock. They didn't strike a vein of ore at all. It seems that they took out some rock with some shiny stuff in it which some shrewd fellow thought might be ore, and so the libel got started. One of the directors told me that they actually had found a tiny fragment of gold when they sampled the rock dust in the tunnel, but the same day one of the miners reported having lost a gold inlay out of a molar. Personally I doubt the story. I am confident not even a gold inlay would ever be found in the Golden Calf.

So our anxiety is over. We don't have to erect a mill. We are going right along with the tunnel in the old carefree fashion. The directors are tunneling straight down, over lower and lower. I think they must be following the stock quotations of the Golden Calf.

GOOD OLD WAY

THE CURRENT fashion in Canada and the United States is to point to the economic recovery of Britain as the proof that good old laissez-faire is the only way out, that all this new and radical experimentation stuff as Mr Roosevelt is attempting can only end in disaster. This idea that Britain has recovered by the simple process of standing pat has been widely accepted and many leading American industrialists have urged the United States to follow it. It is enlightening to hear what Bruce Bliven, one of America's best-known journalists and observers, has to say about this in The New Republic, after a tour of Britain:

"The real clue to Great Britain's comparative well-being, when measured against American conditions, is to be found not in the absence of a Roosevelttian New Deal, but in the fact that the British had already developed their own New Deal, little by little, long before Mr. Roosevelt took office. Generally speaking, the United States recapitulates the social history of Europe about one generation later (though I think we are now closing up the gap). A rough approximation of Section 7a of the NRA, which is now so completely a dead letter in America, has been the basis of labor relations in England for many years. There is not, to my knowledge, a single important British industrialist who would dream of holding the troglodyte (cave man's) labor views of an American steel king.

"England began the depression with a life-saving scheme of unemployment insurance, which is only just coming into sight in America . . . she put through a housing scheme which resulted in almost a million new homes for the poor, while all that the Roosevelt administration has thus far done about housing is to talk. Britain's refunding operation reduced the interest rate on a tremendous amount of internal debt, something that America has not had the courage to face. The British have paid for their huge expenditure for the poor by drastic taxation . . . twice as high as that of the United States.

"In fact, I would suggest to the American conservatives, who are howling that we should abandon the New Deal in favor of the supposed British laissez-faire, that they shut up. If they don't their advice may be taken. And they won't like it."

PROBABLY THEY wouldn't like it in Canada either. The practice in Britain, as in Canada, however, is to do the most radical and socialistic things in the name of Conservatism. So long as the label is all right, so long as the idea is thoroughly respectable and emanates from undoubted gentlemen, it can be as radical as you please. Even the repudiation of debt, which would be a national disgrace from socialists, is quite all right from an aristocrat like Mr. Chamberlain. In the United States, less experienced in such matters, when the government does a few obvious things, it is hailed as another French Revolution. So far as public excitement is concerned, it is not so much what you do as the way you do it, that counts.

Woman suffrage first spoke in America in Maryland in 1647, when Mistress Mary Brent, heir of Lord Calvert, demanded a place in the legislature of the colony as an estimative property holder.

Inventors of a new method for running automobiles with a mixture of acetylene gas, air and water assert that it provides more power and is more economical than gasoline.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By ALINE MICHAELIS

THE SEEKER

O, why not the seeker
Who goes upon his quest,
Who cannot live or labor
And will not laugh or rest?

He has no time for resting,
He cannot choose but seek;
For, ever through the hearts
He hears a strange voice speak.

It rings with matchless music,
It is his rest and food,
And it has charms to people
The distant solitude.

All others may have blame
And fourth fare, blasting, gay:
The seeker still must follow
A road that winds away.

Yet, though no comrade cheers him,
No love lies on his breast,
He has the greater gladness,
The rapture of the quest!

NEW BY-LAWS TO BRING PROSPERITY

To the Editor:—The following are a few suggested by-laws for some of our worthy aldermen:

1. A by-law forcing the few civic employees to live within the city limits. Those who are property owners could then let their vacant lots revert to the city.

2. A by-law forcing the many government employees to live within the city limits. As the government pays no taxes, the provincial cabinet would no doubt fall in line and help enforce this by-law.

3. A by-law prohibiting all residents of Victoria from spending their vacations in the United States. A radius of thirty miles should be ample these days.

4. A by-law prohibiting all residents of Victoria from sending back cash for cheap articles of clothing, etc.

5. A by-law prohibiting chain stores from selling at or below cost, also prohibiting all stores from adding more than 50 per cent to the cost of goods.

6. A by-law prohibiting all residents of Victoria from speculating in mines; no investments to be made without the approval of a bank manager.

In the near future other by-laws could be drafted telling the residents what to buy and how to spend their time. Serious contemplation should also be given to a by-law regulating a person's income or salary to a maximum of $200 per month and a minimum of $100.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

KEEP UNUSUAL FOODS OUT OF SUMMER MEALS

Perhaps if we could flaunt one bit of advice alongside the warning to keep baby cool during hot weather it would be: Stick to usual foods. That sounds so simple as to be almost banal. But it isn't always adhered to. Everyone's appetite is so finicky in hot weather that we hunt for unusual foods to tempt it.

LIGHTER DIET

Fruits and vegetables are less heating foods than meats and cereals and desserts. We may well build our menus more liberally around these two types of foods, and pad the diet less generously with the foods we must have in colder weather when there is a greater need for heat and energy. My leaflet, "Foods to Avoid in the Summer Diet," is available to any reader who will enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope with her request.

Most of us change climates in the summer, and incidentally change water and not only food itself, but sometimes our food habits. This may not always be disastrous to adults, but children invariably show the effects of drastic changes in food and water. This does not mean that we must never go away in the summer, nor endeavor to find some renewed appeal in food itself by altering the diet.

KEEP DIET THE SAME

But for the children, we should continue the foods to which the children are accustomed, at least until they have adjusted themselves completely to the change of scene. The excitement of travel and the new interests which must be investigated immediately upon arrival upset children so that even ordinary foods may not be well borne. The burden is even greater when we necessitate their wrestling with foods to which they are unaccustomed.

Simple diets of good milk which is boiled and kept ice cold until ready to use, plain water, boiled if the source is in any way dubious, plenty of vegetables and fruits of the ordinary types to which the child is accustomed, a minimum of meat, some fish, eggs and chicken, plain deserts of cooked or raw fruit, and bread and butter are staples which should make up the summer diet. What it lacks in interest and appeal is compensated for by the fact that it offers no unusual load to digestions which are apt to be unbalanced by the heat alone, and more so when there is any change of environment.

MEAT'S COOL AND DELIGHTFUL EATEN THIS WAY

TRY THIS TEMPTING JELLIED VEAL OR LAMB LOAF

By MARY E. DAGUE

A well-made meat loaf is an addition to summer meals and gives a pleasant variety to a platter of cold cuts. Baked loaves are appetizing summer and winter, but jellied loaves are particularly appealing in hot weather.

Jellied veal and lamb loaves are especially delicate and summery. Clever garnishing makes them most festive looking despite their actual economy. Serve a mold of jellied veal on a big flat plaque surrounded by lettuce cups filled with various salad combinations. The effect is charmingly decorative and the cost amazingly little.

JELLIED VEAL LOAF

One knuckle and shin of veal, 1 pound lean veal, 1 good sized onion, celery tops, 4 eggs, parsley, salt and pepper.

Ask the butcher to saw through the veal bone in several places. Put bone, meat, peeled but not sliced onion, celery tops and boiling water to cover into a kettle with a close-fitting cover. Simmer until meat is tender. Drain from stock and chop finely. Boil stock until reduced to 1½ cups and strain. Simmer eggs in boiling water for 20 minutes. Garnish bottom of a mold with eggs cut in slices and rolled in minced parsley and pour over stock. Put a plate over meat, weight lightly and let stand on ice until chilled and firm. Run a spatula around the mold to loosen it, turn on serving plaque, garnish and cut in slices to serve.

JELLIED LAMB LOAF

Three or four pounds shoulder of lamb, 2 carrots, 1 small onion, celery leaves, 1 teaspoon pepper-corns, 1 bunch mint, 1 tablespoon granulated gelatin, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, salt and pepper.

Scrape and slice carrots, peel onion and chop celery leaves. Put meat, prepared vegetables and peppercorns into kettle with boiling water to more than cover. Simmer until tender. Remove meat from stock. Add mint to stock and simmer until reduced to two cups. Strain. Chop meat coarsely, sprinkle with salt, pepper and lemon juice and put in a mold. Soften gelatin in 3 tablespoons cold water and add to hot stock. Stir until dissolved and pour over meat. Weight lightly and let stand on ice until chilled and firm. Unmold and serve.

This loaf is splendid with a salad of assorted vegetables. Quartered tomatoes, sliced cucumbers, paper-thin radish slices, threads of green pepper, slivers of onion and shavings of head lettuce all tossed together with a French dressing and served very cold in a gay pottery bowl will tempt the appetite on the hottest day.

TO-MORROW'S MENU

Breakfast: Fresh pears, cereal, cream, toast, milk, coffee.

Luncheon: Corn custard, lettuce sandwiches, Dutch peach cake, milk, iced tea.

Dinner: Fruit cup, lamb loaf, vegetable salad, blueberry dumplings, milk, coffee.

Women's Bodies Have Done Much to Assist Rural Relief Camps

The forty-first annual meeting of the National Council of Women of Canada will be held in the Chateau Laurier, Ottawa, at the invitation of the Ottawa Local Council of Women and the city of Ottawa, October 15 to 19 inclusive.

This will be the first annual meeting of the National Council to convene in Ottawa since 1908 (a quarter of a century). However, the history of the National Council has been closely allied with that of Ottawa from the beginning, for the council was founded in Ottawa by Lady Aberdeen, international president, in 1893, during the regime of her late husband, Lord Aberdeen, a former Governor-General of Canada, and since 1928 the head office of the National Council has been established in the Plaza Building, Ottawa. From time to time a deputation from the National Council also waits upon the federal government while in session, presenting varied resolutions affecting legislation.

With the exception of two morning sessions (Tuesday and Thursday) the meetings will be open to the public. The opening will take place with a non-sectarian devotional service at 12 noon on Monday, and throughout the week the sessions will commence at 9.30 a.m., adjourn for luncheon, and reassemble at 2 p.m. for the afternoon session.

On Wednesday evening special conferences for local council presidents, provincial council presidents and national conveners of standing committees will take place.

WILL BE RE-ELECTED

Miss M. Winnifred Kydd, C.B.E., M.A., president of the National Council of Women of Canada, who will assume her duties as dean of women at Queen's University in the autumn, and who was honored by receiving a C.B.E. on His Majesty's birthday this year, will preside during the sessions and will be re-elected by acclamation to the presidency of the council.

The National Council of Women was formed with the idea that the best good of Canada would be advanced by a greater unity of thought, sympathy and purpose, and that an organized movement of women would best conserve the highest good of the family and the state. The council acts as a clearing house for the women's organizations throughout Canada, and the work carried on by members of the council is entirely voluntary.

The council is organized in the interest of no one propaganda and has no power over the organizations which constitute it beyond that of suggestion and sympathy. It is non-political and non-sectarian.

The council meets for a two-day executive in the early spring of each year and an annual meeting in session for a week is held in different sections of the country from year to year. Last year the meeting was held in Calgary. This year the meeting was postponed from June until autumn in order that a delegation from Canada might attend the council sessions of the International Council of Women in Paris, France, during July.

THE EXECUTIVE

The executive of the National Council of Women is composed of the following members: Hon. president, Her Excellency the Countess of Bessborough; hon. vice-presidents, the wives and hostesses of the lieutenant-governors of the provinces; the sister of the Prime Minister, Mrs. W. D. Herridge and past presidents of the council, Mrs. J. A. Wilson is the immediate past president. Honorary life members, elected for service; national conveners of standing committees, conveners of special committees; presidents of local councils of which there are fifty representing all provinces and sixteen nationally organized societies in federation, including: The Canadian Girl Guides' Association, Canadian Nurses' Association; Canadian Women's Christian Temperance Union; Hadassah Organization of Canada; Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire; Lyceum Club and Women's Art Association; National Council Y.W.C.A.; Victorian Order of Nurses, and others.

The members of the various committees in the local councils and nationally organized societies report to the national conveners, who in turn report to the annual meeting of the National Council of Women, and in this way it is possible for committees to study and gather information which leads to creating interest in problems relating to the welfare of the country.

SPECIAL COMMITTEES

Special committees are formed from time to time when the necessity arises, thus a committee on the Canadian National Exhibition was convened by Mrs. J. Wesley Bundy for several years, which arranged for an exhibit and special programme of speakers in the Women's Building at the exhibition in Toronto. Also a committee on maternal care under the convenership of Mrs. H. F. Plumptre made a survey of this question in Canada—a report was later compiled from the information received by the committee and published in French and English by the Department of Pensions and National Health and distributed to states members of the League of Nations in Geneva.

In 1928 the foundation fund was inaugurated under the convenership of Mrs. Frederick Etherington with an objective of $200,000—a large amount has already been raised mainly through national life memberships of $100 each, which entitles the donor to membership and council literature.

AIDED UNEMPLOYED

In 1932 in compliance with a request re peace service of assistance of comforts in unemployment relief camps, the National Council of Women took the necessary steps to inaugurate a fund auxiliary to the government department under a special committee, convened by Miss M Winnifred Kydd of the National Council of Women, to sponsor the supplying of comforts to unemployment relief camps in the sparsely-settled districts of Canada.

All the local councils have given active co-operation and have in various ways collected a great deal in their localities for these camps, as well as sending cash donations.

During the past three years the local councils have concentrated in relieving the unemployment situation in their localities and have worked in many cases in collaboration with the mayor and city council. Their activities are many and varied. They have undertaken the registration of unemployed women and girls and endeavored to find positions for them; they have looked after the distribution of food and secondhand clothing in many centres; they have managed hostels; they have undertaken the special care of expectant mothers; distributed milk and olive oil to undernourished children and babies; supplied funds for medical needs; canned thousands of bottles of fruit and vegetables; supplied comforts for unemployed girls, also arranged household lectures for those untrained or trained only in one line of work; organized recreation for children of the unemployed, and organized sewing rooms where work was supplied to women.

WORKING FOR PEACE

The National Council has worked actively through its branches in support of the League of Nations Society in Canada, and has endeavored to educate public opinion towards world disarmament.

In 1932 the national president, Miss Kydd, was appointed a member of the Canadian delegation to the Disarmament Conference in Geneva. In 1933 she visited all the local councils in Canada, as well as addressing many other organizations across Canada and specially stressing the importance of women's work and the cause of peace. Through the citizenship committee efforts have been made to educate and interest more women in holding public office, and during the past year an exceptionally large number of council women have been appointed to responsible positions in public office.

Czechs Angry Over Austrian Hanging

Praha, Czechoslovakia, July 25.—Public resentment ran high here today over the execution yesterday in Vienna of Joseph Gerl, Czechoslovakian citizen, whom the Austrian President refused to pardon despite a plea in his behalf by the Czechoslovakian charge d'affaires.

Newspapers in the capital bitterly complained Austrian courts treat Nazis more leniently than Socialists. Execution of Gerl as a Socialist accused of terroristic acts was unofficially regarded as an unfriendly act of Austria against Czechoslovakia.

Ontarion Killed By Hornet Swarm

Winona, Ont., July 25.—Stung on the face and neck by hornets, Adam Miletich of Winona died within a few minutes. While Miletich and his wife were working on the side of the "mountain," near here, he was attacked by the swarm as he was cutting a fallen tree.

Medical aid was summoned, but he died before a doctor reached him.

The Esquimalt Workers' Welfare Association will hold its regular weekly meeting to-morrow night at the Queen of Peace Hall, Old Esquimalt Road, at 8 o'clock. Final arrangements for the picnic on Sunday at Esquimalt Lagoon will be made. About one hundred adult and fifty children's tickets will be reserved for members and their friends at a nominal rate, and all funds will be used for organizational purposes. Details of the time and starting point of trucks and boat will be announced later.

Sunshine Camp Is Proving Boon To Under-privileged

If sufficient funds are available, a group of teen-age girls will be given a brief holiday at Camp Sunshine, the last few days of August and the first few in September. As most of the applicants for this party are suffering from more or less serious health problems, mainly due to the prolonged financial stress in their homes, it is felt that sound preventive work would be accomplished by getting them out to the country for a few days, with good food and fresh air.

Mothers and their children who have already enjoyed their fortnight's holiday at Camp Sunshine are loud in their praises of camp life. One mother remarked that she wished she could stay for two years, rather than two weeks as it was "just like Heaven."

Last Sunday, a party of Boy Scouts, under Col. Moore assisted at a most impressive flag-raising ceremony, when the flag-pole they presented to the camp was used for the first time. Each week special treats of some kind are arranged for the campers, and the times passes all too quickly.

Two more parties of mothers and children go out in August, then the camp will conclude for this year with the teen-age girls' group. Only those girls who have no other means of getting away from the city and stand badly in need of the change, are being taken. Funds for camp are urgently needed and should be sent to Fred. Landsberg, 1008 Broad Street.

MOTHERS GRATEFUL FOR CAMP REST

In appreciation of their holiday, at Sunshine Camp, Sooke, the following letter has been written by the mothers of the first group:

"We wish to thank the citizens of Victoria and all who have made it possible for us to enjoy these two weeks at Camp Sunshine.

"We also thank all those on the staff for their kindness and care, and find them very capable. We hope many others will be moved to help keep the camp going, so other mothers and their children may also enjoy the pleasures of this camp.

"Gratefully and sincerely,
"The First Group of Mothers."

DONNA of the BIG TOP

by BEULAH POYNTER

"I—I should have 'phoned him," Donna stammered, wondering if the other suspected that she had not told Bill the truth. "When I was delayed I—I intended to stop there on my way back but the storm kept me in town longer than I expected."

So Bill knew she had not been near the Adamses! He had tricked her into telling a deliberate lie. Her cheeks burned with sudden resentment against him. What if she had gone to town? She had a perfect right to do so. Many wives came and went without discussing it with their husbands. For all his protestations of faith and love, Bill had jumped to the conclusion that she was doing something she shouldn't.

If her countenance had been entirely clear Donna would have confronted him and demanded the reason for such a narrow attitude. Knowing she was treading the edge of a precipice, she could do nothing.

She was too restless to read, and the radio rasped her nerves. She could not keep her attention on what Miss Perkins was saying and her hands trembled too much for her to sew. She went into the kitchen and made some molasses candy, glancing every few minutes toward the clock and listening for the sound of Bill's footsteps.

When he came in she did not go to meet him. She heard him bid the nurse good night and ask if Grandfather was sleeping peacefully. Then he went up the stairs. When he did not come down again Donna realized he was not looking for her, did not care where she was.

Her reluctance to be alone with him grew stronger. It was not that she was actually afraid of the entire truth becoming known so much as that she was in a state of panic, causing her to lose perspective. She knew that, if Bill sat in judgment over a small lie, the end would be reached when Mrs. Planter spoke—as speak she unquestionably would. The feeling that the man she loved and would have trusted to the end of the world had failed her was a deeper hurt than anything else could have been.

Bill, the steadfast, the true, the man of high principles and honor, had never existed. Instead her husband was proving himself jealous, unreasonably suspicious, small-minded and intolerant. What difference could it make now if their marriage did go on the rocks?

CHAPTER XLII

Bill was sitting by the window, staring out at the falling snow. He did not turn when Donna entered. She crossed the room and slowly began to remove her dress. She said, "I told you a lie to-night, Bill."

"I know you did."

"I went to town."

"I know that, too. Why?"

"It didn't occur to me that you would object," she evaded.

"I don't know that I did object. Not to your going to town."

"You deliberately tricked me into lying," she said hotly. "That was objecting."

"Why did you lie?" He rose and came to her. How small she looked and how pale! The healthy bronze of her circus days was gone and her features looked pinched and tense. There were shadows under her eyes and a pathetic quiver about her lips that made his heart ache. If only she would offer some explanation—something that would convince him that damnable letter was a lie! But even as sympathy swept over him the staggering thought that perhaps she was suffering because she loved another man made his voice harsh and cold. "Why did you lie?" he repeated.

"Because — because I could see you mistrusted me — and you had sworn nothing—nothing could ever make you doubt me again. I wanted to see—to see if you—"

His laugh cut like a rapier. "Testing me, eh? Thanks. After giving me a couple of rotten hours visioning you freezing to death in the snow you think it's sporting to test my trust. Thanks!"

"Bill!"

"Next time I won't waste my anxiety, but I would like to know what made you change your plans. Or didn't you intend to go to the Adamses when you left?"

She did not answer. Slowly she reached for her nightgown and went into the tiny dressing-room adjoining. Sobs were tearing at her throat. Her heart was pounding in a way that made her sick and dizzy. She heard the creak of bed springs, and the fear that Bill would desert her that night disappeared.

From a closet she took out blankets, spread them on the couch in the dressing-room and flung herself upon them. Every bone and muscle ached as though she had done hard manual labor. She felt she would never sleep again, but outraged nature rebelled and soon she was asleep.

Bill lay awake, reviewing his life with Donna. Little incidents that had seemed of no importance took on new meanings the strange antipathy between Madeline and Mrs. Planter, the sudden exit of the housekeeper, the telephone call that had upset Madeline so. Had Mrs. Planter written the anonymous letter? Who else? It would be characteristic of the woman to strike back in such a fashion, but even Mrs. Planter must have had some basis for such statements.

He thought of the letter Madeline had written Con David that had been returned. Other letters, too, that she received, supposedly from her partner. Suppose—

There was one thing Bill could do. He could find out if the circus performer was in Lebanon and what had brought him there. After that Madeline would have to make an explanation or—he groaned and dug his head into the pillow. Suppose he learned she was unfaithful? What would he do?

Long before Donna awakened Bill was up and dressed. Minnie had not yet arisen when he descended to the kitchen. He made coffee and drank it, black and strong. He mixed the mash for the cattle and filled pails of "slop" for the hogs. Then, in rawhide boots, cap and coat, he plodded through the snow to the stables.

The storm was over. There were huge drifts in the farm yard, but a streak of crimson in the sky gave promise of a sunny day. The car Donna had used the day before had not been taken into the garage and was completely snow-covered. The radiator must be frozen, and probably the engine was water-soaked.

Bill felt bitter resentment toward the machine. But for it, Madeline could not have made that trip to town.

After he had fed and watered the animals he got out his sleigh and hitched the horse to it. He was going to find out whether Con David was in Lebanon or not.

Breakfast was being served at the Commercial Hotel when he hitched the horses in front of the building. A drummer who had to catch an early train, the conductor of a freight that "made up" in Lebanon, and a farmer who had stayed in town because of the storm were sitting at the long table reserved for "regulars" as Bill stalked into the office.

Austria Scorns the "Skilful Diplomacy" in Serbia's Reply to Harsh Ultimatum

By MORRIS GILBERT

A hushed, tense Europe—on July 28, 1914—turns fearful eyes on belligerent Austria and beleaguered Serbia . . .

Belgrade, 6 p.m.—At the last possible moment, Serbia answers the Austrian ultimatum. Conciliatory, the note is described by Austrian Berchold as "the most brilliant example of diplomatic skill I have ever seen." Some diplomats believe it was composed by Philippe Berthelot, French foreign office official in Paris.

It agrees gracefully with virtually all of Austria's harsh terms, but balks at allowing Austrians to take part in the investigation and trial of the crime of Sarajevo, on the ground that this is constitutionally impossible.

Since the ultimatum is framed to be unacceptable, so it proves. Ambassador Giesl and his staff take the 6.30 p.m. train for Vienna.

More than two hours before the answer is handed to Giesl, Serbia has ordered her troops to mobilize!

Vienna, 8.15 p.m.—"Also doch!" ("So it has come, anyhow!") Franz-Joseph exclaims with an old man's bitter resignation. 9.30 p.m.—Austria orders "partial mobilization" against Serbia.

London.—Telegrams flood Sir Edward Grey's office. Telegrams from Russia and France, begging him to restrain Germany and declare Britain's solid front with her allies. Telegrams from Berlin, begging him to urge Russia not to mobilize.

BERTHELOT
Serbia's "Hand"?

FRANZ-JOSEPH
"Also Doch!"

Paris.—The War Ministry orders troops on manoeuvres or in camp back to garrison, officers back from leave, prepares to transport troops to France from Morocco.

Berlin.—Von Jagiow insists to Jules Cambon, French Ambassador, that the conflict still can be localized between Austria and Serbia.

In the Baltic.—The Kaiser aboard his yacht orders the German fleet to concentrate at Kiel.

To-morrow: "It depends on Russia whether war can be avoided."

THINKS SURVEY SATISFACTORY

Fire Agents' Head Here Expresses View at Annual Meeting

"As you are aware, a survey of the city has recently been made by the board, and the results of that survey are at present being discussed by the board with the fire wardens, and, we believe, with satisfactory results," Frank Jordan, retiring president of the Victoria District Fire Insurance Agents' Association, told that body at its annual meeting in the Pacific Club to-day.

His statement followed a brief description of the interview held between the city public works committee and fire insurance interests regarding the rate question. He complimented James Forman for his presentation of the companies' case on that occasion.

Briefly Mr. Jordan spoke of the golf tournament for the Robert S. Day and Sons Challenge Cup, won last year by T. S. McPherson, and up for competition this afternoon.

He commented on the success of "Fire Prevention Week" last year, thanking the fire chief, the fire marshal and others for their co-operation and stating over 1,800 essays were written on the subject.

PROBLEMS

The speaker referred to the problems of the year, speaking particularly on the work of the executive committee in trying to evolve some means of meeting unfair and unreasonable non-tariff competition and in the introduction of a more detailed classification of risks. The situation had been fully reviewed at a representative meeting of the British Columbia Insurance Underwriters' Association in Vancouver in May. He believed companies were determined to formulate changes throughout the Dominion to improve the business, he said.

Mr. Jordan also gave a short sketch of actions taken to prevent Lloyd's from securing the right to insurance throughout Canada without a deposit.

He remarked upon the election of Hon. John Hart at the last provincial contest and his necessary resignation from the vice-presidency of the local association. That post had been filled by James Forman, he said.

SECRETARY THANKED

In conclusion, he thanked the secretary, F. F. Patt, for his assistance during the year and voiced his appreciation for the co-operation shown by D. S. McGregor, manager of the board.

In his report as secretary, Mr. Patt stated the membership roll had been increased by four members, raising the total to seventy-five. Four general meetings of the association had been held with an average attendance of twenty-nine. Mr. Patt expressed his appreciation of the amicable relations existing between the British Columbia Insurance Underwriters' Association and his association and thanked the officers for their help in the execution of his duties.

Following the meeting, members and visitors proceeded to the Colwood Golf course to participate in the association's annual tournament.

GYRO AIDS GOODWILL

International Secretary Tells of Work Towards Promoting Friendship

International officers of Gyro are anticipating a great future for Gyro with the prospects of twenty-six new clubs being formed in Canada and the United States, said E. L. Kagy, Cleveland, international secretary-treasurer, who passed through Victoria yesterday en route to the organization's No. 4 district convention to be held at the end of this week in Tacoma. While here he was met by a number of the local members.

In eleven of the prospective clubs, group meetings are being held and there is every indication these will form the nucleus of additional clubs.

Mr. Kagy stated the idea of Gyro in building organizations for friendship had proven its worth and there was a strong bond existing between the seventy-five clubs in the Dominion and the United States. The International was now working in the interests of cementing this friendship, he said.

Mr. Kagy told the local members of the international convention, which he attended at Calgary. The constitution had been amended to allow for second and third vice-presidents and these officers were added at the convention. Norman Helwig, Hamilton, was elected president; Robert C. Simmons, New York, first vice-president; Alfred Williams, Calgary, second vice-president; and Margraye Long, Chicago, third vice-president.

The visitor left on the night boat for Vancouver, where he will meet Vancouver Gyros to-day before continuing his journey.

SALT SPRING ISLAND

Ganges, July 25. — The annual meeting of the Ganges Harbor school district was held in the schoolroom, when the financial statement for the year showed receipts of $2,183.60 and expenditures $2,147. Consideration was given to the recommendation of the trustees that an additional acre of land be secured to add to playground square and the trustees were authorized to negotiate and report at the ratepayers' meeting. Attention was drawn to recent amendments to the School Act, in respect of the power of trustee boards to levy fees for high school pupils and the effect of this in regard to financing costs for high school course. It was suggested a plan for a combined high school be worked out, to provide funds for this purpose without the necessity of imposing fees as at present. The retiring trustee, W. M. Mount, was re-elected for three years and A. J. Eaton was named as auditor, replacing D. S. Harris.

Maurice Humber and Alan Butchart have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. N W. Wilson at "Barnsbury," Central Salt Spring.

Mrs. K. Morrow and child, and Miss Greta Morrow, Vancouver, are guests at Rainbow Beach camp.

Mrs. Graham Shove and Mrs. Ray Morris were joint hostesses at a tennis tea last Friday at Harbor House. The tables on the lawn and veranda were decorated with golden nasturtiums and foliage.

Mrs. Louis Wharton and the Misses Beryl and Phyllis Wharton, Victoria, have been guests of Major and Mrs. A. R. Layard at Vesuvius Bay.

Two Reporters In Jail Three Hours

Danville, Ky., July 25.—Two Danville newspapermen spent three hours in jail here yesterday because they refused to tell where they had obtained advance information about the hanging in effigy of State Representative J. Sterling Towles.

The two, Jack Durham and Wesley Carty, said after their release that they would again refuse to disclose the information in another hearing called for this afternoon in police court. Their refusal yesterday brought fines of $10 each.

Police Judge J. W. Harlan held they were in contempt of his court, but before sending them to jail gave them some time to think it over. They declined to answer the questions later and were sent to jail.

Another refusal might result in another contempt charge and another jail sentence for the twenty-three-year-old reporters, it was said.

COMFORT
SERVICE

Railways provide special summer fares and excursions. You should enquire about them.

Increased use of Railways Means Greater Prosperity for all.

During 1933, the Canadian National Railway System, with its 23,750 miles of track and 4,954 stations or depots (386 of which are in the United States), carried 31,000,000 tons of freight and 9,434,000 passengers. Of the freight, 5,000,000 tons consisted of grain. It paid 76,000 employees $95,000,000 in wages.

These figures clearly demonstrate the important public service rendered by this system—service which continues all the year round under all conditions. In many cases the C.N.R. was the only agency available for its performance, and of course much of the service was of an indispensable nature.

The fidelity of the service provided and its importance are sufficient reasons for Canadians giving the C.N.R. all the patronage possible. There are, however, other inducements, not the least of which is the fact that the welfare of railways is so indissolubly bound up with the prosperity of the country that in using them the whole community is being helped to better times.

The C.N.R. is equipped to provide the maximum in comfort, safety and efficiency. You should use it for all transportation purposes. The present season of the year provides many tempting opportunities for using C.N.R. facilities.

FINE EXHIBITS AT FLOWER SHOW

Early Season Will Provide Wonderful Display of Flowers This Week

Success from an exhibitors' point at the Victoria Horticultural Society's show on Friday and Saturday is certainly assured, said F. E. Moulter, the secretary, this morning after checking entries and application for commercial space.

The exhibition this year as far as present indications go, will be the society's premier attempt. Visitors on either of the show days will have the opportunity of seeing one of the finest collection of summer and early fall blooming flowers that has been staged since the initial event of the society nearly fifteen years ago. This is made possible by the abnormal season experienced this year.

Up-island growers will be represented by R. M. Palmer of Cobble Hill and Crossland Bros. of Duncan. Both of these growers are well known for their various specialties. The Rockhome Gardens will also feature shrubs, evergreen and other features of particular interest, while Wipers will arrange a very attractive display of rare and novel ferns. The Art Cement Works will exhibit a number of bird baths, pedestals and other ornamental specimens.

All entries for the exhibition must be made by this evening other than those for specimen blooms for new exhibitors, which can be made up to 11 o'clock the morning of the show. For the convenience of its patrons the society has issued special commutation tickets carrying two street car tickets and admission to the show. These are on sale at all central floral stores, members of the society, and the B.C. Electric Railway Company ticket office, Broad Street. Tea and luncheon will be served by the Women's Auxiliary of the society.

AUSTRALIANS REDUCE DUTIES

Canadian Press

Canberra, Australia, July 25.—An undertaking made at the Ottawa Imperial Conference was kept in mind by the Australian Government in the budget introduced yesterday, under which reductions or abolition of primage duties on 144 items may be expected to remove about $2,500,000 from the customs impost on goods from the United Kingdom.

At Ottawa Australia agreed to reduce or remove the primage in respect of United Kingdom goods as soon as the state of its finances permitted. The concessions are apportioned over a long list.

Further preferential treatment is given the United Kingdom under seventy-nine items.

The budget revealed a surplus for the last twelve months of nearly $6,000,000 at present exchange, contrasting excellently with an anticipated deficit of $4,800,000.

NEW HIGHWAYS TO BE OPENED

Two Units in California Ready For Use August 5, Publicity Bureau Advised

Two new units of the California section of Highway 101 will be formally opened to traffic under the auspices of the Redwood Empire Association, on August 5, George I. Warren, publicity commissioner, has been advised.

A caravan is being organized to commemorate the completion of the Waldo-Sausalito and Cloverdale-Hopland units of the Redwood Empire system of highways, and the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau has been invited to send representatives to participate in the opening ceremonies.

The length of the Waldo-Sausalito unit is 1.55 miles, and was completed at a total cost of $249,085, exclusive of the cost of the right-of-way, which exceeded $100,000. The new section eliminates twenty-two sharp curves, equalling two and a half complete circle turns. It is estimated that it will save 460,000 vehicle miles, or 46,000 hours of vehicle time a year.

The Waldo-Sausalito sector is the key to the entire Northbay Redwood Empire system of highways to and from San Francisco.

The cost of the Cloverdale-Hopland unit, with a length of 13.9 miles, was $1,201,900, in addition to rights-of-way costs. The new road is three miles, or 18 per cent, shorter than the old road. It obviates the complete driving over seven summits and eliminates thirty-three complete circles. Five bridges were constructed.

The relocated road is part of Highway 101, of which Victoria is the Canadian terminus. Construction in both instances was financed by United States state and federal appropriations.

Canadian Press

London, July 25.—One of the world's most highly regarded theologians, Canon B. H. Streeter, provost of Queen's College, Oxford, has identified himself with the Oxford Group Movement.

In a speech before an audience of 2,000 people in the Oxford Town Hall, Canon Streeter said: "I regard the Oxford Group as the most important religious movement in the world at the moment."

Canon Streeter, whose works are well known in Canada and the United States, said he felt it was time to cease taking an attitude of "benevolent neutrality" towards the Oxford Group Movement.

His statement was supported by Most Rev. Foss Westcott, Metropolitan of India, Burma and Ceylon, and Most Rev. J. Logan Roots, Bishop of Hankow and former Metropolitan of China.

Nearly 5,000 followers of the Oxford Group Movement, including more than 100 Canadians, are attending the international house party of the Oxford Group at Oxford University. The Canadian contingent will sail for the Dominion July 28.

FRENCH PLAN RESTORATIONS

By George Hambleton, Canadian Press Staff Writer

Paris, July 25.—French unemployed are to find work restoring the great religious and historical monuments of France. Credits totaling 140,000,000, or about $9,000,000, have been allotted to this end.

Famous churches and cathedrals—the noblest memorials of the Middle Ages—will benefit.

Eight million francs will go to Rheims Cathedral, 2,000,000 to Nantes, 1,000,000 to Tours with lesser sums allotted to Notre Dame de Paris, Toulouse, Bordeaux and Orleans cathedrals.

The great royal palaces, now national museums, will echo to renewed activity. The crumble of decay will be checked on amphitheatres. Credits permit extension of university buildings and schools.

Funds for the restoration plan are provided by setting aside 75 per cent of the available reserve in the social insurance fund. One hundred thousand men will be given employment.

Clothing Workers Idle in Montreal Total 4,000; Walk-outs in Other Towns

Canadian Press

Montreal, July 25.—A province-wide strike in the garment trade in Quebec threatened as word was received here to-day that members of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers' Union in St. Johns and St. Hyacinthe had walked out with the 4,000 Montreal members of the union in the disputes over wages and working conditions.

At Victoriaville, Longueuil and St. Therese plants, negotiations between workers and employers were reported to be in a critical stage.

Work in every men's clothing plant in Montreal was at a standstill and pickets were posted before the factories.

Meanwhile a conference was under way between the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union and manufacturers in the women's trade to decide whether 3,000 members of that union would join the Amalgamated in a general walkout.

WIDE SEARCH IN BANFF AREA

But No Trace Found of Missing Priest, Rev. F. MacAdam

Canadian Press

Banff, Alta., July 25—Weary searchers, directed by Royal Canadian Mounted Police, took to wooded trails and mountain paths to-day as the hunt for Rev. Father F. MacAdam, forty-seven-year-old Strathmore, Alberta, priest was resumed.

The search for Father MacAdam, who disappeared from the Rocky Mountain resort hospital here last Saturday night, was continued at dawn to-day by police, game wardens and scouts. Densely wooded mountain sides, lake shores and fast-moving streams have been combed since Sunday by scores of men, but not the slightest clue has been found.

To-day Roman Catholic church authorities posted a $200 reward, offered to any of the organized searchers who find the missing priest. He had been in ill-health, and resident at the resort hospital for the last six weeks.

Father MacAdam served the church at Strathmore for many years, coming to the west from Prince Edward Island.

Rowdyism at Boundary Bay Leads United States Officials to Act

Canadian Press

New Westminster, July 25.—Beer licenses at Boundary Bay have been cancelled.

This is the United States government's answer to alleged rowdyism and strenuous celebration that has been carried on at the summer resort in the last month by visitors from Canada who had been attracted by the free liquor laws and general beauty of the place.

Residents complained their week-ends were marred by the antics of drunken hoodlums, and when an old butcher's ice box was converted into a jail it barely survived the week-end and police were temporarily, at any rate, stumped as to how to preserve the peace.

No steps have been taken to curb sale of alcoholic drinks at Point Roberts, but similar complaints have been received by U.S. federal authorities about the week-end habits of visitors at that resort.

WANT RAILWAY OFFER SETTLED

Japanese Ask Answer From Russia on Proposed Manchukuo Transfer

Associated Press

Tokio, July 25.—A spokesman for the Foreign Office to-day revealed Japan had sent to Moscow a proposal demanding a yes-or-no answer on the potentially dangerous problem of disposal of the Chinese Eastern Railway in Manchukuo.

The proposal was in the nature of a final offer to the Soviet government, the spokesman said, on protracted negotiations involving the transfer of the railway to Manchukuo. The line formerly was jointly operated by China and the Soviet.

The Foreign Office was now awaiting a reply from Moscow, the spokesman said, and the reply must be either acceptance or rejection of the Tokio proposal.

It was made clear Tokio considers that Moscow's answer depends whether the negotiations, already drawn out for thirteen months, will be abruptly terminated, producing a dangerous strain on Russo-Japanese relations, or their speedy and successful termination assured.

STORMS SWEEP OVER ENGLAND

Downpour of Rain Ends Long Drought; Damage Caused By Lightning

Canadian Press

London, July 25.—Great thunder and rain storms swept England yesterday, breaking the long drought and leaving everywhere a trail of havoc.

London experienced a downpour of tropical intensity and many roads were quickly under several inches of water. Traffic generally was held up, underground and surface train services were disrupted.

Hammersmith Bridge was struck by lightning and cables underneath it caught fire. The flames were extinguished by a fire brigade. A thunderbolt struck a suburban hall and set it afire. Scores of houses and shops were damaged by lightning and many homes and buildings were flooded.

Summer May Bring On Intestinal Disorder

Lighter Diet, Heat and Spoiled Food May Cause Inflammation of Bowels, Usually Due to Some Specific Ailment

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN

During these hot days, when you have modified your diet somewhat, and particularly when foods are likely to spoil, you should be particularly watchful of inflammation of the intestines.

Furthermore, the possibility of such inflammation is intensified by the fact that your diet probably contains more fluids in summer than it does in winter, and, in addition, the heat tends to some extent to disorganize the temperature mechanism of the body.

Finally, this condition can come from so many other causes that it cannot be classified as a distinct disease, but must be considered in relationship to specific causes.

You may believe you have cramps or stomach ache and may complain of the symptoms of diarrhoea when you have an inflammation of the intestines. But before the right kind of treatment can be given, and before repeated attacks can be prevented, it is necessary to fix the responsibility on some definite and usually single cause.

In children, sudden attacks of pain in the bowels, and diarrhea are frequently due to wrong diet. The old stomach ache due to eating green apples was of this type.

However, the overeating of foods which stimulate action of the bowels also is likely to bring on irritability, with a certain amount of inflammation.

In most cases when persons are sensitive to food substances, they respond to the eating of such food with irritability of the bowel and with excessive activity.

There are also certain drugs which have a specific effect on the bowel and which, if taken in sufficient quantity, will cause extreme irritation. This applies particularly to drugs like arsenic, mercury and other poisonous substances.

Far less frequently than is usually believed do be the case, material in the bowel ferments, because of unfavorable bacteria that are present, with a resulting intoxication of the body as a whole and with a reaction within the bowel manifested by loosness and straining.

Of course, a severe infection with any of the bacterial organisms that are known to be dangerous to the human body, when they attack the bowel, will have an exceedingly bad result.

Inflammation of the bowel with the symptoms that have been mentioned also is not infrequent as a complication of various infectious disease, particularly typhoid fever, tuberculosis and dysentery.

Sometimes infections of the bowel occur in association with operations within the abdomen, and occasionally serious disturbances of the circulation of the blood will be reflected in an inflammation of the bowel.

FAVORITE HERO BACK ON SCREEN

Capitol Starring Ralph Richardson in "The Return of Bulldog Drummond"

Another of the widely-read Bulldog Drummond stories, "The Black Gang," has been brought to the screen of the Capitol Theatre, under its film title, "The Return of Bulldog Drummond."

Drummond this time is portrayed by Ralph Richardson, a comparative newcomer, in his first leading role, whose remarkable performance assures him of a big film future. There have been several Bulldog Drummonds, two of the best-remembered being the late Sir Gerald du Maurier on the stage and Ronald on the screen, but Mr. Richardson's rugged masculinity is more suited to the role of the hero than some of his predecessors.

Supporting Mr. Richardson are Ann Todd, Francis L. Sullivan, Claud Allister and Joyce Kennedy. The picture was directed by Walter Summers.

Being shown as the second feature attraction at the Capitol Theatre for the next three evenings will be "Embarrassing Moments," a new Universal comedy, with Chester Morris and Marion Nixon in the leading roles.

Casanova Revue Coming Monday

The Casanova Revue, which will open at the Empire Theatre next Monday, is claimed to be one of the best stage attractions to appear in Victoria for several months.

The company consists of twenty people and each is a star. It is a musical revue featuring the famous Di Gaetano Dancers, a sextette of beautiful girls in a whirlwind of dances.

The house will rock with laughter by the contortions of Phil Rich, America's foremost character actor, in which he portrays his study of an old man whose age is a "sprightly eighty-seven." His interpretation of modern dancing, assisted by his charming partner, Miss Alice Adaire, makes this one of the outstanding acts of the revue.

ROMANO BOOKS GRACIE FIELDS

Gracie Fields, the popular comedy star of the English screen, appears in the feature role in "Love, Life and Laughter" which opens at the Romano Theatre to-morrow. In this delightful picture Gracie spends most of her time hobnobbing with royalties which develops some amusing situations.

EMPIRE THEATRE

From king to courtier is the course taken by Reginald Owen.

Immediately after finishing the role of the monarch with Greta Garbo in "Queen Christina," he was engaged to play Herries, official of England's royal exchequer, in "The House of Rothschild," George Arliss's first starring vehicle under his new contract with Twentieth Century Pictures, which United Artists brings to the Empire Theatre to-day.

COLUMBIA THEATRE

Wynne Gibson reforms for her role in "Emergency Call," RKO-Radio action drama with Bill Boyd, William Gargan and Betty Furness, in which she plays a straight-and-narrow nurse instead of her conventional characterization of the gangster moll. The picture is now at the Columbia Theatre.

As the hospital nurse, Miss Gibson is instrumental in ending the career of a gangster who makes ambulance chasing a racket which undermines the hospital. Her belligerent aides are Boyd and Gargan, as a young surgeon and an ambulance driver, who start the warfare. Gunplay and fast fist fights against a background of dramatic action result.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE

"Man of Two Worlds" is the title of the feature picture now showing at the Playhouse Theatre.

The entire setting, occupying the greater part of a big sound stage, was converted into a well-populated zoo, in which animals from the Arctic predominated.

DOMINION THEATRE

Few actors have had such an amazingly varied career as Wallace Beery, who does the finest work of his professional life in the spectacular "Viva Villa," now at the Dominion Theatre.

This picture, in which he portrays Pancho Villa, is one of the great screen productions, taking its place with such masterpieces as "Ben Hur" and "The Birth of a Nation."

The characterization calls for a definite ruggedness, and Beery's life has trained him well for the part.

Home Gas Nine Beats Davidans

Vancouver, July 25.—Home Gas nosed out the touring House of David nine, 3 to 2, in a close exhibition game here yesterday evening. Three singles and a wild heave by Catcher Fleming of the visitors, gave the gas men their three runs in the second frame.

The tourists collected one run in the fifth on three hits and a walk, and scored their last in the ninth on a triple and a wild pitch.

Large numbers of prairie people have been visiting the B.C. coast and Vancouver Island during the last few weeks, attracted to a large extent by the cheap fares offered on both Canadian Pacific and Canadian National railways, it was stated to-day at the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau.

Inquiries are still reaching the bureau here from prospective travelers in the interior, indicating that the western movement has not abated.

The department also attended a chimney fire at 909 Metchosin Street, and another grass fire at Lansdowne Road and Beach Drive this morning. The chimney blaze, at the home of F. M. WIN APPEAL IN MINE CASE

Justices Reverse Judgment of Prince Rupert Judge on Atlin Placer Property

Four sitting justices of the Court of Appeal in a special session here to-day handed down judgment allowing the appeal of Louis Schulz of Atlin and Charles Henry Colpe of San Francisco, mine owners and operators, against the judgment of Judge W. E. Fisher of Prince Rupert, who had ruled in favor of Angus Beaton of Atlin. The case involved title to some valuable placer gold property now being operated in the Yukon.

Hon. George Black, K.C., speaker of the Dominion House of Commons, was here from Ottawa to hear the judgment. He sat in his counsel's robes at the counsel table with C. W. Craig, K.C., of Vancouver. The two had handled the case through the courts as counsel for Mr. Beaton. Against them on the other side as counsel for Schulz and Colpe were Alfred Bull, K.C., and J. C. Ralston of Vancouver.

Chief Justice J. A. Macdonald delivered the judgment, supported in essential points by his three colleagues, Mr. Justice A. E. McPhillips, Mr. Justice M. A. Macdonald, and Mr. Justice W. G. McQuarrie. The consensus judgment allowed the appeal on the chief question of the occupation of the defendant-appellants, Schulz and Colpe, and confirmed the judgment of the court below on the question of accounting. It was explained by counsel that they were agreed upon the question of an accounting, so a ruling on that was not vital to the judgment.

Saanich School Board To Meet

Awarding of Contract For McKenzie Avenue School to Be Considered

The Saanich School Board will hold a meeting to-night to consider several important matters, including opening of tenders for the new McKenzie Avenue School, which it is proposed to get under construction as soon as possible.

Tenders were called for the new structure last week, and it is expected this evening that the trustees will be able to definitely announce acceptance of a tender and work will start at once.

Appointment of teachers for the next term is also on the agenda. It is not known what the trustees plan in connection with appointments as these have not been discussed before at an open meeting. It was announced this matter was preliminarily discussed at last week's meeting from which the press was ejected by resolution of the board for the whole evening.

Withdrawal of their protest against the granting of the liquor license to the Four-mile House may come before the Saanich School trustees for further consideration this evening.

Nothing was stated to-day as to whether the trustees would permit the press to attend, so that the Saanich ratepayers might be informed on all matters.

No Price Drop For Two Weeks

The resumption of steamship services between United States Pacific Coast ports and Victoria will have no effect on fruit and vegetable prices here for about two weeks, wholesalers announced this morning. There are still considerable stocks on hand which have come here by rail, and there are other consignments still on their way here by that route.

The drop in prices will about equal the increase which marked the beginning of the longshoremen's strike, that is to say an average of fifty cents a case on all citrus fruits, and a proportionate amount on other fruit and vegetables.

With the large amounts of local and Okanagan produce at present, however, on the market the effect of the change will not be on the whole be very noticeable.

Another gap was made in the ranks of the city's pioneers with the death yesterday of George James Jones, who arrived here with his parents in 1872. Mr. Jones, who was a brother of the late Stephen Jones, passed away at the Jubilee Hospital, aged seventy-seven.

Mr. Jones was born in Prescott, Ontario, on August 19, 1857, and was for many years engaged in the contracting business in this city. He resided at 1209 Princess Avenue and is survived by one son, Clarence, Victoria; and two sisters, Mrs. M. E. Owen, Victoria, and Mrs. A. M. Winters, Vancouver.

When Coppy had the cannon packed, all of the Tinies gladly backed away, and one wee Cheerful Chap exclaimed, "Now we're all set.

"Who's going to make the cannon roar? We'll fire it once, and then some more. What happens will surprise all of you Tinymites, I'll bet."

"Hey, wait a minute," Dotty cried. "You told me not to run and hide to get away from lots of noise. You said there would be none.

"And, now you say the gun will roar. I guess you're fooling me. What fun? To have noise ringing in your ears is really not much fun."

"Just wait and see," the Chap replied. "Stand right there by the cannon's side, and you will not be scared one bit. The noise is from a spring.

"You'll find out what it's all about, and see a marshmallow fly out. The cannon's really safe and sound, and quite a clever thing.

"All right," snapped Dotty. "I am game. As long as there's no sign of flame from powder, I will stay right here. Come, Coppy, do your stuff.

"You're plenty brave enough, I hope, to jerk the little trigger rope. It only takes a little jerk to make the cannon puff."

They shortly found that she was right. The rope was jerked, and what a sight. A big marshmallow sailed right out and whizzed along through space.

Wee Windy was so startled he took quite a flop. He shouted, "Gee, some of the sugar powder of the candy hit my face."

"Ha, ha!" laughed Goldy. "That is luck. Some candy on your lips is stuck. Why don't you lick it off? I'll bet that it will taste real good."

"A good idea," Windy cried. And then they all laughed when he tried to lick the candy from his lips, like any youngster would."

REICHSWEHR ADDS TO ITS STRENGTH IN GERMANY

Out of the disturbed conditions in Germany following the Nazi "purging" carried out by Chancellor Adolf Hitler, looms the Reichswehr, whose 200,000 grey uniformed goose-stepping soldiers have become the real power of the Reich, pushing aside the Storm Troops Hitler to hold in their hands the future destiny of the nation. Nonpartisan, anti-Republican and loyal to the former army commander, President Paul von Hindenburg, the Reichswehr is composed of private enlisted for twelve years, and officers for twenty-five years. Led by General von Reichenau, unsentimental Junker, the Reichswehr has become the most efficient and powerful professional army Germany has known for many a day, despite its complete lack of heavy arms, tanks, airplanes, etc. General Blomberg is the present chief, holding the portfolio of Minister of War in Hitler's Cabinet.

Austria to Germany. What a terrible thing to do?"

Asked if he believed the German government was involved in the assassination, the attache replied: "We don't know that, but at least the Germans must have been in sympathy with the assassins, or the minister would not have intervened."

A Vienna dispatch, which said Chancellor Dollfuss was shot without warning, added:

"The body was still in the chancellery at 9 p.m., when three truckloads of 'putschists' who had held the chancellery for several hours left, presumably to be taken to the German border in conformity with an agreement under which they surrendered."

Vancouver Girls Still In Chase For Canadian Tennis Crown

THE SPORTS MIRROR

MORE THAN Vancouver sports circles had lost a gallant fighter when Billeh Gordon fell to his death in a mountaineering accident on Ramsay Island Sunday. Victoria sportsmen in three branches of athletics mourned the sudden passing of the highly regarded Vancouver boy.

* * *

"Eddie" broke into competition in Victoria about six or eight years ago as a fancy diver for the Vancouver Amateur Swimming Club. He lent to the sport the same vigor and cheerfulness that won him wider renown a few years later as an oarsman. As leader of the popular and provincially famous Gordon Brothers four, winners of Pacific Northwest honors in the district's leading rowing classics, he made many friends here through his ability as an oarsman and his happy disposition.

* * *

Later still he skippered the Vancouver Athletic Club squad in the Canadian rugby series here, leading his team to victory on several occasions against Victoria.

Life was more vigorous and happier for having known Eddie Gordon.

Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane was mighty proud of Cavalcade when that great colt added the Arlington Classic Stakes to his mounting chain—one that includes the Kentucky, American and Detroit Derbies. But there were several "owners" of Cavalcade who were immeasurably more vociferous concerning the matter than Mrs. Sloane.

As Cavalcade swung into the back stretch ahead of no horse save his stablemate, Good Goods, half a dozen stable boys—owners every one in a horse which is giving them reflected glory—looked momentarily sick about the gills. And then, as the Derby winner began to move up, the whole group literally exploded in glee.

"Hyah he come! Hyah he come!" they exulted. "Gangway ole Discovery. Brown hom burn up that ole stretch!"

And when the thoroughbreds had crossed the finish line, half a dozen dusky sons of Africa dashed across the track to welcome back the dark brown son of the English Lancegaye.

"What'd he do? Wha'd he do?" they shouted the question, chanted it back and forth until the crowd caught it up, echoing it back to them. The official time was posted, 2.02 4-5, only a second off Sun Beau's track record, although Cavalcade got away last. Dark boys and white shouted the figures proudly, as 30,000 spectators cheered the well-mannered three-year-old.

"Boy, git ready wid dat sheet!" "Looky old stretch burner nod dat hair. He know he give Discovery anothah beating."

No happier stable boys in America. To them "Brookmeade Stable" means more than a nom de course for Mrs. Sloane's string. It means Cavalcade, and the glory of feeding, rubbing, bedding and handling a champion.

Proudly, reverently, they led Cavalcade away, repeating their exultant chant, "Come on, Saratoga! Give old Discovery anothah dose of stretch burning!"

And in the stable of Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, a sportsman who knows no defeat, even as his dauntless Discovery continues to wage a losing fight against the champion, another group of stable boys, less happy, but unyielding still, also wait for Saratoga. They remember that the Spa traditionally is the downfall of champions, that Reigh Count and Gallant Fox there met defeat, and that there a maiden bested Mate, a horse fresh from outrunning Twenty Grand in the Classic Stakes. They, too, are waiting for Saratoga, and another chance at the "stretch burner."

But the Arlington Classic also was supposed to be a hoodoo to favorites, with Gallant Fox the only one of them to get there first in former years.

Cavalcade, with $128,965 to his credit, probably would have had a clean sweep this year had Mack Garner urged him a second sooner in the Preakness, in which he was nosed out by his running mate, High Quest.

It takes more than a jinx to trim a stayer with the powerful legs of Cavalcade.

When putting in golf have you ever overrun the cup, then be short coming back? If you have, it would pay in the future to study the grain of the grass. If no attention is paid to it putts are bound to go wrong, fall short and miss the cup. When putting against the grain, naturally, the green will be slower than putting with it. Attention should also be paid to roll. If the roll is with the grain, the ball will break faster and more borrow must be allowed. Chances are the ball will enter the cup from the side. Less borrow is needed if the grain runs against the roll in the green. Then the ball can be hit straighter, allowing for more accuracy and a firmer hit putt.

The next race will be held this week-end from Bremerton.

Score Straight Set Victories in National Championship at Toronto

GILBERT NUNNS GETS BIG SCARE

Toronto, July 25.—Winnipeg's colors were carried up one more rung of the Canadian singles championship ladder yesterday by the Manitoba titleholder, Eddie McKush.

Manitoba's new champion left no doubt as to his power as he romped through two rounds, downing the brilliant Ottawa junior, John Cheley, 6-3, 6-4, in the second round, and taking Ken Salmond of Toronto, in the third with love sets a few hours later.

To-day he battled it out with Hal Surface, Kansas City, who defeated H. Gausby, unranked Toronto player, 6-1, 6-1, in yesterday's play.

Eleanor Young, Vancouver, one of the mountain province's entrants to steal the spotlight in the women's singles first round Monday, proceeded through the third stanza by eliminating Mrs. R. F. Cobb, Toronto veteran. The eighteen-year-old British Columbia girl won, 6-3, 6-2.

MISS DEACON WINS

Other western entrants broke even. Caroline Deacon, Vancouver, defeated Miss A. Gausby, Toronto, 6-0, 6-1, while Clare Ehman, Regina, lost to Mrs. Catharine Rous, Los Angeles, 6-0, 6-1. Both matches were one-sided.

Miss Ehman again lost in the doubles, when partnered by Mrs. W. R. Walton, Toronto. She was defeated, 3-6, 6-0, 6-0. The Vancouver stars—Deacon and Young—combined in the women's doubles to eliminate Mrs. H. Griffin and H. Rendry, Toronto, 6-2, 6-2.

Little Joe O'Hara, Ottawa, who earned his tennis stripes by hard work, but never achieved national ranking, came within four points to-day of plunging the country's Davis Cup captain, Gilbert Nunns, Toronto, heading out of the singles championship, but Joe just missed.

He had a sick and tired looking Nunns on the very edge of defeat in the third round, leading by a set and 5-4 in games. So close was the biggest upset of the tournament that every spectator in the Toronto Lawn Tennis Club watched Nunns serve. They saw the start of a brilliant comeback. Nunns won that game on his service and went on to dispose of O'Hara by 5-7, 7-5, 6-0.

U.S. STARS ADVANCE

An international struggle for the singles crown, undefended by John Murio, San Francisco, waxed warm as two stars from the United States advanced safely through two rounds.

Surface, University of Texas, defeated H. Gausby, unranked Toronto player, 6-1, 6-1, then eliminated Sid Hermant, University of Toronto, 6-1, 6-3.

P. Castlen, University of California, won by 6-3, 6-3, from Neil Pocock, Toronto, and by 6-3, 6-2, from Doug Grant, Halifax, Canadian badminton title-holder.

Nunns was the only seeded Canadian star in real difficulty. Rainville, Walter Martin, Toronto; Bobby Murray and Laird Watt, Montreal; McKush, Winnipeg, and the Jamaicans, Don Leahong and Harry Dayes, advancing easily.

To-day, Nunns was to play the dangerous Gordon Shields, Toronto, who eliminated Bill Boyes, Toronto, 4-6, 6-3, 6-2.

The singles field will be reduced to eight to-day, when these pairs have finished battle: Martin-George Leclerc (Ottawa); Dayes-Murray; Surface-McKush; Henri Paul Emard-Wyatt; Nunns-Shields; Ross-Wilson; Toronto-Leahong; Castlen - Roland Longtin, Montreal; Grant McLean, Toronto-Rainville.

In the upper bracket, Martin ousted J. Duthrie, Toronto, 6-2, 6-0, while Leclerc was beating Brian Doherty, Toronto, 6-3, 6-1. The hard-hitting Leclerc was expected to provide Martin with a rousing battle to-day. Murray swept through H. A. Syer, Toronto, 6-0, 6-1.

Dayes defeated C. H. N. Ashlin, Toronto, 6-2, 7-5. Emard dropped a set to Henley Sklarsky, Niagara Falls, N.Y., before finally winning at 3-6, 6-2, 6-2.

JUNIOR DOES WELL

Sixteen-year-old Hugh Pope, London, Ontario, something of a power in junior tournaments, won five games from his Davis Cup opponent, Watt. The scores were 6-4, 6-1.

Rainville advanced by beating Jim McDougall, Toronto, 6-1, 6-4. His next round foe, Grant McLean of Toronto, eliminated Bill Pigott, Hamilton, triumphing 2-6, 6-4, 6-2.

Montreal's challengers, Rifie Billing and Yvette Sawyer, scored wins. Miss Billing defeated Miss M. Best of Toronto, 6-2, 6-1, and Miss Sawyer beat Miss M. Brock of Toronto, 6-0, 6-2.

Miss Brock put up a fine game for one set.

Wayne Sabin Turns In Great Display

Portland Junior Wins Five Matches as Western Canada Tennis Championships Progress at Vancouver; Bob Harmon Beaten in Upset

Vancouver, July 25. — Headed by Wayne Sabin, energetic Portland, Ore., junior, who took part in five matches during the day and came out of each with flying colors, United States Pacific Coast net stars continued their smooth stroking yesterday, to dominate play in all six events of the western Canada lawn tennis championships.

The youthful Sabin took to the grass courts in the morning to win two matches in the men's singles and advance to the quarter-final.

In the afternoon, the Portland ace returned to walk through his junior match and enter the quarter-final of the boys under eighteen; then teamed up with Mrs. Golda M. Cross for a mixed doubles victory later, and topped his day's performance with another win in the men's doubles with Mel Drage, Seattle star.

The only upset of the day was the defeat of young Bob Harmon, United States national boys' champion and seeded No. 2 in the tournament, who was eliminated from the men's singles by the veteran George Sperling, Vancouver, in the only quarter-final of the day. Harmon fought through to take the first set, 7-5, but dropped the next two, 6-0, 6-3.

VISITING PLAYERS STAR

The boys' single crown was practically assured of going south when visiting coast stars captured seven of the eight quarter-final places.

Stan Bayton, Vancouver, former Calgary star, is the only Canadian left in the junior event, and was to face Bob Underwood, Los Angeles, in a quarter-final to-day. Underwood was expected to advance to the semis.

The hardest-fought match of the day was the first round women's singles, between Mildred Connell, of San Francisco, and Vera O'Shea, of Vancouver.

The San Franciscan, seeded No. 2, finally won out, but only after a hard three-set battle, 7-5, 3-11, 6-3.

Miss Connie Reagener, of San Francisco, also advanced in the first round, as did four other United States stars, to give the visitors six of the eight places in the quarters.

Forsgren Beaten By Joe Savoldi

Spokane, Wash., July 25.—Jumping Joe Savoldi jumped all over Jack Forsgren, Vancouver, to win two out of three falls in the main event of a wrestling show here yesterday evening.

Savoldi, the former Notre Dame athlete, weighed 222, and Forsgren, billed as the Canadian heavyweight champion, 215.

His Win Decided Cup Net Series

FRANK SHIELDS

who placed United States in the challenge round of the Davis Cup tennis series to-day by defeating Vivian McGrath in the fifth and deciding match of the interzone final between the Americans and Australians at Wimbledon. Shields scored his victory after Sidney Wood had evened the series at two matches each by whipping Jack Crawford. The United States team meets England in the final.

PERRONI HANDS RISCO BEATING

Boston Heavyweight Takes Ten-round Decision From Cleveland Veteran

Cleveland, Ohio, July 25.—Perroni, Boston Italian heavyweight, slugged his way to win the decision over Johnny Risko, Cleveland veteran, in a ten-round battle here yesterday evening.

The decision gave Perroni two victories over the "rubber man."

Risko started in with a rush, looping lefts and rights at Perroni and forcing him to the ropes several times in the first three rounds. Perroni withstood the attack, however, and rallied in the fourth round, pounding lefts and rights to the Cleveland's stomach.

A short right to the jaw staggered Risko in the seventh round and from then on Perroni had things his own way, with Risko slowing until the end of the tenth.

McLarnin States His Chances Good

Former Welterweight Champion Figures to Whip Barney Ross in Return Bout in September; Arrives Here to Play in Charity Baseball Game To-night

"I am working out every day in my gymnasium at home and early in September, when I am scheduled to step into the ring for the return bout with Barney Ross, I will be in first class condition," declared Jimmy McLarnin, Vancouver, former world welterweight champion, who arrived here this morning to take part in to-night's big charity baseball game at Beacon Hill Park. McLarnin looks in the pink with that famous smile, still as prominent as ever.

In addition to boxing every day with his brother, Jimmy is playing about twenty-seven holes of golf. He figures the latter is fine to get his legs into tip top shape. McLarnin stated he would leave for New York within a couple of weeks, and will go up into the mountain to taper off his training. Pop Foster, his manager, is now in the east looking for a good location for a training camp.

Questioned as to his chances in the return bout with Ross, the Chicago Jew, who relieved McLarnin of his welter crown by a fifteen-round decision several weeks ago, Jimmy said: "I figure I have got a good chance. But don't ever think this Ross is an easy man to whip."

Jimmy was accompanied to Victoria by Ralph Rogers, his Vancouver side-kick. Immediately after taking breakfast Jimmy and Rogers were taken out to the Colwood Club by Lesley Patrick for a round of golf.

McLarnin was all pepped up over the ball game to-night and stated he was looking forward to having a great time. Jimmy played quite a bit of baseball around Vancouver as a kid.

All arrangements for to-night's Beacon Hill classic between General Bill Cox's Army and the all-star squad from The Times and The Colonist have been made. With McLarnin, Patrick and Rogers performing for the Army, the fans will see a great show.

The newspaper nine is reported to have held a secret workout yesterday evening and Manager Tommy Nute, their manager, declares his outfit is certain to win.

MAYOR TO ATTEND

Mayor David Leeming will be present at the park at 6.15 o'clock to extend an official welcome to the city to McLarnin. Immediately after the teams will get into action.

Following the game Albie and Jumbo Davies, Victoria's two famous fighting brothers, will engaged in a bout with McLarnin in the role of referee. This will be followed by the distribution of 1,000 suckers, donated by S. S. Kresge Co. Limited to the kiddies. The older folk will not be forgotten with 5,000 boxes of carmel crisp, donated by the Carmelcrisp Shop, Fort Street, to be handed out to the grown ups. A sack of peanuts will also be given to the children, while twenty-five pigeons, given by Tommy Dunlop will be liberated.

Music for the game will be well looked after by the Britannia Branch, Canadian Legion, band. The bandsmen will play for fifteen minutes before the start of the game, during play and at the conclusion. A great time is looked for.

NEW METHODS IN PLAY-OFF

Defeat Blue Ribbons to Reach Finals in A Section of Softball Loop

New Method Laundries softballers, who a few weeks ago appeared to have only an outside chance of going into the finals, yesterday evening hurdled Blue Ribbons 10 to 5 to gain a place in the A section play-offs in the Lower Island Softball Association. They will meet the Beavers for the city title.

The Laundries team came through in fine form against the Ribbons at Central Park. Turner, starting hurler for the tea merchants, was knocked from the mound in the fifth and replaced by Eric Moir. Craig Moll held and went the route for the winners.

Art Chapman pulled off the most spectacular play of the game, streaking across the field to make a shoestring catch that looked to be almost impossible.

Washington and Pittsburgh Skid

Former Slips Into Sixth Place in American Baseball League Chase; Pittsburgh Drops Near National Cellar; Detroit and Giants Win

From pennant winner and leading contender to just a couple of second division clubs—that summarizes the slumps of Washington Senators and Pittsburgh Pirates which have played important parts in reducing the number of contenders for the major league flag. Pittsburgh today found itself near the bottom of the season's worst slump after nine straight defeats.

The Bucs struck a new low yesterday when they took a 9 to 0 beating from the Phillies and dropped a point behind Boston into fifth place.

The Senators were in even worse condition as they skidded off into the sixth notch in the American League standing for the second time within a week after a 4 to 1 defeat at the hands of the last-place Chicago White Sox.

The New York Giants snubbed the St. Louis Cardinals' race toward the top of the National League on Roy Parmelee's four-hit flinging, winning 5 to 0 and the Detroit Tigers came through to a 6 to 3 triumph over Boston's Red Sox with the aid of some flashy hurling by Clarence Phillips.

OTT GETS HOMER

Parmelee stopped the Cards after seven straight triumphs to leave them four games away from the lead. Mel Ott's twenty-eighth homer also figured in the victory.

Phillips pitched four-hit ball to earn credit for the Detroit victory.

The decision increased Detroit's lead to three games over the Yankees as the St. Louis Browns handed New York a 4 to 2 setback to go into fifth place. In the seventh inning Earl Combs crashed into the fence trying to catch Harland Clift's deciding three-bagger and was injured. A possible brain concussion and possible fracture of the left shoulder were indicated by the preliminary examination.

The second-place Chicago Cubs held their spot two games behind the Giants by making good use of their six hits and seven walks off Van Mungo to beat the Brooklyn Dodgers 8 to 3 behind Bill Lee's steady hurling. Manager Charley Grimm supplied the winning runs with a homer with two aboard.

Old Flint Rhem provided the fourth of the National League's good mound performances by holding the Cincinnati Reds to seven hits, while the Boston Bravves broke a six-game losing streak with a 4 to 3 victory that lifted them barely into the first division. In the American League Pearson recorded his twelfth victory for the third-place Cleveland Indians, although touched up for twelve hits, including two homers by Ed. Coleman. Cleveland slammed Johnny Marcum for five runs in the first and breezed through to win 10 to 6 from the Philadelphia Athletics.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

High-powered hurling on the part of twenty-three-year-old Vito Tamulis kept Newark Bears in full flight to-day in the International League ahead of a hard-pressing band of pursuers from Canada. Toronto Maple Leafs.

Tamulis, a slim left-hander, stopped in yesterday and held the third-place Rochester Red Wings to six hits as Newark won a night game 6 to 1.

In close pursuit, only a game and a half behind the league leading Bears, Toronto jumped on Syracuse Chiefs with a 6 to 3 verdict.

Sheriff Blake and Charlie Lucas kept Syracuse in fair subjection.

Montreal, in a virtual tie with Albany for fourth place, spent an exciting evening with Baltimore Orioles, winning 7 to 3.

Buffalo pulled out a 13 to 10 victory over Albany in a game played in a drizzle.

Port Townsend Whips Indians

Visiting Ball Team Hammers Out 13 to 3 Verdict Over Local Squad

Taking to Tommy Musgrave's offerings like kittens to cream and using the locals' errors to advantage, visiting Port Townsend baseballers sent the Victoria Indians down to a 13 to 3 defeat in an exhibition eight-inning fixture at the Athletic Park yesterday afternoon.

When the Port squad had scored eight runs in the first two frames and collected more hits in the third Musgrave left the mound in favor of Shouldice. Shouldice started well, but after two good innings, the visitors started hitting again and drove in five more runs in the last four innings.

Johnson, eighteen-year-old Port Townsend boy, pitched six innings for the visitors before being relieved by Blevins.

Score by innings:

Port Townsend	3	5	0	0	1	2	0	2	—13
Victoria Indians	1	0	0	0	0	2	0	0	— 3

AUSTRALIANS GET SYMPATHY

English Newspapers in Opinion Weatherman Robbed Them of Cricket Win

London, July 25.—England's new twelfth man—the weatherman — unquestionably robbed Australia of victory in the fourth test match at Leeds, it was the unanimous opinion of press commentators to-day.

A deluge of rain prevented further play after the morning and as a result Australia, holding a long lead in runs scored, were unable to get the last four English wickets. The series remains deadlocked with a win each and two draws.

English newspapers generously sympathized with Australia's bad luck. It was conceded likewise that William Keeton, who made his test match debut at Leeds, and T. B. Mitchell, along with John Hopwood, would be dropped from the decisive match at the Oval next month, which will be fought to a finish.

It is freely stated that Harold "Lightning" Larwood, the world's fastest bowler, will be used, although he will not employ his so-called "bodyline" tactics which had Australia up in arms in 1932-33.

Don Bradman, who reached 304 in the Leeds encounter and became the only man to ever score a triple century twice in test cricket, is expected to be fully recovered for the final match. Bradman, not long after completing his magnificent innings, sprained a thigh muscle Monday and was ordered to rest for ten days. The last match does not open for three weeks.

Miss E. L. Troup, aged ninety-three, recently testified in an Edinburgh, Scotland, court that she still conducts a dressmaking shop and makes garments on a hand sewing machine.

TRACK MARKS ARE BETTERED

Sweep Past and Parisienne Set Up Records at Hastings Park Track

Vancouver, July 25.—M. M. Barry's Victoria filly, Sweep Past, with Jockey Henry Pales up, pounded home in the sixth to nose out Lady Rief, and set a new track record, the second of the day, over the mile and one-sixteenth, in yesterday's racing programme at Hastings Park.

Wild Hour was third in the most sensational finish seen on a local track this season. Inches separated the three horses as they swept by the judges' stand.

Breaking fast, the Victoria entry set all the pace, and responded well in the home stretch to gain the close victory.

The winner's time of 1.48 2-5 broke the record set by Flying Somers, western Canadian champion, by one-fifth of a second.

Parisienne, noted western Canadian sprinter, hung up the first record of the day, when Solomon brought his mount home first in the fourth.

Parisienne's time of fifty-nine seconds flat broke the former mark by two-fifths of a second.

Judge Austin, a rank outsider in the machines, rewarded backers in the fifth, paying off at the rate of $45.70, $15.05 and $5.85.

Dark Horse Leads In U.S. Pro Golf

Bob Crowley, Dedham, Mass., Turns in 36-Hole Qualifying Score of 138 to Set Pace in P.G.A. Tourney; Paul Runyan Cracks Record With 66

Buffalo, July 25.—Riding on the crest of a low-scoring wave, Bob Crowley, twenty-four-year-old Dedham, Mass., professional, rolled in with a thirty-six-hole aggregate of 138 yesterday to capture the qualifying medal for the Professional Golfers' Association championship.

Crowley toured the sun-parched par 72 course in sixty-seven strokes on his morning round and posted a seventy-one yesterday afternoon.

His total equaled the qualifying record created last year by Mortie Dutra of Detroit and Jimmy Hines of New York, neither of whom were on hand when the thirty-six-hole match play chase for Gene Sarazen's crown began to-day. Dutra failed to make the grade yesterday with a total of 155, while Hines failed to qualify in the New York Metropolitan district sectional test a few weeks ago.

Finding the 6,879-yard course to their liking, forty-one players out of the starting field of 107 either equaled or were under par, all of which made the qualifying pace too stiff for Olin Dutra, winner of the 1934 open championship. Dutra took 78 and 75 for 153, to miss qualifying by seven strokes.

RUNYAN CRACKS RECORD

Ky Laffoon, Denver, and Bill Mehlhorn, Louisville, clipped five strokes off par with identical rounds of 70 and 69 for 139.

Craig Wood and Paul Runyan led the members of the 1933 U. S. Ryder Cup team with totals of 140 each, tying them for third place with Victor Ghezzi. Runyan shot a record-breaking second round 66 after his first round 74.

Five players were tied with 141's—Dick Metz, Eddie Loos and Tommy Armour, Al Houghton and Gene Kunes.

Horton Smith and Bill Burke occupied a bracket at 144.

HAGEN EASES IN

Al Watrous, George Christ, Leo Fraser, Al Nelson, Ted Turner and Joe Paletti got under the wire with 154's.

Ten were tied at 146 for the eight remaining places. The survivors of the playoff were Walter Hagen, five times P. G. A. king, Leo Diegel, twice winner, Johnny Revolta, winner of the 1934 St. Paul open, Herman Barron of New York, Frank Ball of Haines Falls, N.Y., Denny Shute of Philadelphia, Fay Coleman of Culver City, Calif., and Orville White of Overland, Mo.

three-year-olds and up; mile and one-sixteenth:

Peter Jackson Defeats Payne

Portland, Ore., July 25. — Young Peter Jackson, Los Angeles, finished strong in the last two rounds to gain a decision and retain his Pacific Coast lightweight championship yesterday evening in a ten-round bout here with Cecil Payne, Louisville Ky. Each weighed 135.

Fire Destroys Bowie Stables

Bowie, Md., July 25.—Fire, believed to be caused by spontaneous combustion, late yesterday evening swept through the feed stall and three stables of the Bowie race track here, and, despite the efforts of several fire companies, threatened other buildings.

Early arrivals at the home of Southern Maryland racing believed no horses were in the stables which were destroyed. There were ninety-eight stalls in the three stables.

Fire companies responded from Bowie, Blandensburg, Laurel and Glendale, and calls were sent out at midnight for companies of other nearby communities.

CANADIAN GOLF TOURNEY

Montreal, July 25.—The Canadian Professional Golfers' Association championship tournament will be held at the Country Club, St. Lambert, near Montreal, it was learned yesterday evening. The date will be announced later, but the last week in August appears probable.

Three generations of the family of Thomas Olds of Birmingham, England, have served in the British Army for seventy-seven years, their total service being 157 years.

Wheat Prices Gain On Bullish Reports

Canadian Press

Winnipeg, July 1.—A wave of bullishness that set in in late dealings sent wheat futures prices mounting on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange to-day. Values closed 1⅛ to 1⅝ cents higher.

Only minor fractions were pared from the high points as last-minute profit-taking was encountered and the July future ended at 84⅞, October 86⅝-⅛ and December 87⅛ cents.

Swiftly reversing an earlier downward trend as reports of good export sales of Canada's wheat and unexpected strength at Liverpool were received shortly after mid-session, futures traded buoyantly for the balance of the session.

Continual heavy selling from several sources affected values but little, advances of more than two cents being scored at one period. One million bushels of wheat were sold for overseas shipment and in a surprising display of bullishness Liverpool prices closed ¼-⅜d higher.

Cash grains, stirred into activity by the export business, were in good demand with advances being recorded for No. 1 and 2 Northern wheats. Coarse grains futures, in trading only slightly less active, followed the lead of wheat.

Canadian Press

Chicago, July 25.—Corn and wheat rose late to-day to go 3⅛ cents higher, influenced largely by predictions 1934 corn production would be the smallest since 1901. Corn reached new top quotations for the season.

Reports of irreparable damage to corn were asserted by some specialists to indicate 300,000,000 bushels less corn in prospect than the July 1 forecast by the government, with Missouri showing a drop of 89,000,000 bushels in less than a month.

Corn closed unsettled, 1⅜-2 cents higher, wheat firm, 1⅜-1⅞ up; oats ⅛-⅜ advanced and provisions showing 5 to 12 cents gain.

Maple Leaf Mills To Be Reorganized

Canadian Press

Toronto, July 25.—Shareholders of Maple Leaf Milling Company, after lengthy discussion, have finally approved the plan of capital reorganization. Only 200 of the seven per cent preferred shares and five common shares voted against the plan.

Under the reorganization, holders of each of the first preferred shares are to receive seven new common shares of no par value, each class "B" share is to be converted into one new common share and each five shares of old common stock is to be replaced by one new common share.

Wheat Exports Will Grow

Canadian Press from Havas

London, July 25.—Wheat-starved countries of the world will have to depend for extra needs on Canada and Argentina, a new statistical survey reveals.

Weather conditions have cut down the crop in the United States, completely changed the average favorable outlook in the Danube Basin, made crop forecasts in Russia extremely uncertain and assured only mediocre production in Australia.

Even Canada's expected bumper crop has been reduced considerably by heat waves of recent weeks.

Wheat experts here have watched a steadily mounting total of reports in recent weeks indicating disastrous inroads made by weather on previous production estimates. Prices are going up, well over last week's figures. It would appear nearly every wheat-producing country has been more or less affected.

According to British government statistics, the estimated seasonal total of 482,000,000 bushels shows a reduction of 150,000,000 bushels for domestic consumption, and hence there will be virtually no wheat in the United Kingdom available for export, as reserves must be held for next season as usual.

RELIEF TALK PLAN CHANGED

Canadian Press

Winnipeg, July 24.—The preliminary conference of western Premiers on relief problems, scheduled to have been held in Winnipeg next Saturday, will be held en route to Ottawa, where representatives of all the provinces will confer with the Dominion on relief matters, July 30. Inability of some of the western representatives to arrive here in time for the meeting necessitated the change in plans.

Hon. George S. Pearson, minister of Labor, who will represent British Columbia at the preliminary conference of the western provinces on relief, will leave Victoria this evening for the east.

Canadian Press

Vancouver, July 25.—Premier Pattullo was in conference here to-day with Mayor L. D. Taylor and Alderman W. W. Smith, discussing relief administration.

There is a possibility, it is learned, the city of Vancouver will have its own representative at the Ottawa relief conference at the end of this month, which will be attended by federal and provincial leaders.

Alderman Smith, chairman of the city council's relief committee, may accompany the delegation, otherwise a brief outlining the city's relief plight will be given Hon. George Pearson, Minister of Labor, for use in the negotiations.

Victoria's brief on unemployment and taxation generally, outlined in The Times yesterday evening, was presented to Premier Pattullo before he left yesterday evening.

New York, July 25.—Stocks dipped and rallied somewhat nervously to-day, but in the final hour gains of fractions to around a point or so predominated. The market's tone appeared to have improved somewhat, although trading was inclined to turn dull on the recoveries.

The close was steady to firm. Transfers approximated 1,400,000 shares.

Shares of J. I. Case and California Packing came back more than two points each. Others up a point or so included Chrysler, Johns-Manville, du Pont, Sterling Products, Santa Fe, Douglas Aircraft and U.S. Smelting.

Wright Aeronautical got up more than three on a small turnover. Aside from General Motors, new 1934 bottoms were recorded by Union and International Telephone with minor declines.

International Nickel recovered its fractional loss of yesterday. Canadian Pacific and McIntyre were about unchanged, but Dome sold moderately lower. On the curb, Lake Shore and Hiram Walker were a bit easier. Dominion Government 4s advanced a half point. The Canadian dollar was off 1-16 of a cent at 101.43⅝ cents.

STOCKYARDS RE-OPENED

Temporary Agreement at Chicago Between Officials and Striking Handlers

Associated Press

Chicago, July 25.—The Chicago Union stockyards reopened to-day under an agreement between officials of the yard and striking handlers to permit the disposal of livestock on hand.

It was a "clean-up" market, designed to permit the merciful slaughtering of stock shipped in on ordinary commercial accounts. Yard officials were confident all of the commercial stock could be cleaned up before 3 p.m.

A revised estimate placed the number of privately-owned cattle at a little more than 5,000. The remaining 65,000 to 70,000 cattle belong to the Federal Government, and were purchased for relief purposes. In addition, there were 3,000 head of hogs and a few of sheep.

Meanwhile the feeding of the cattle, most of which had received nothing but water, was begun by non-union feeding crews.

A walkout of union butchers and slaughter-house employees was considered likely.

How to Be Happy Though Married

Bride Out Hope to Husbands

YOU ARE going to be married, son. Here is a tip for you. Begin your married life by taking as much time and trouble in teaching your bride to be the kind of wife you want as you would in breaking in a new stenographer. Literally train her up in the way you desire her to go.

Few men have the wisdom to do this. Most of them seem to think that the knowledge of how to be a good wife comes by nature, and that every woman is born with some sort of occult power that enables her to read her husband's mind and know what will please him and that teaches her how to avoid stepping on his pet prejudices. But, unfortunately, there is no truth in this agreeable fiction.

When a girl enters the holy estate she starts out to explore a territory that is as unknown to her as is the heart of darkest Africa, and she has no more idea of how to manage a husband than she has of how to tame a lion. She is simply sloshing over with good intentions and longings to come up to her husband's ideal, but everything is new and strange and bewildering to her, and so through sheer ignorance she often blunders into the mistakes that wreck her marriage and disillusion her husband, simply because she did not know what he wanted her to do. He never pointed out the road to her.

Believe me, son, no man has a right to complain of his wife until after he has made an honest and intelligent effort to shape her to his heart's desire.

The fatal error that most young husbands make is babying their brides too much. They have an idea that the way to be good to a woman is to sit her down on the do-nothing stool and force her to fold her hands in idleness. The result of which is that having nothing to think about but herself she grows morbid, and having no legitimate occupation she gets into mischief. So, if you want a wife who is cheerful and rational and contented, see to it that she has plenty of good, hard, constructive work to do. You never hear of a busy woman discovering that her husband is not her soulmate, after all, and that her real place is Hollywood instead of the home.

If you want your wife to be a helpmate to you, throw responsibility upon her. Make her pull her weight in the boat. Make her feel that she is just as responsible for the success of the matrimonial firm as you are, and that you can do nothing unless she helps you. Make her feel that her part of the contract is to fry the bacon, as it is yours to bring it in and that it is just as disgraceful for her not to make a comfortable home as it would be for you not to support it.

Nothing else on earth flatters a woman so much as having a man trust her as an intelligent human being and show that he depends upon her help and strength, and there is not one young wife in a thousand who wouldn't be an invaluable working partner to her husband if he expected it of her. No one need waste any sympathy on the men who have to get up and get their own breakfasts while their wives snooze in bed or who have to live in untidy houses and eat poisonous food. It is their own fault because they put up with it. If the lazy wives knew they were going to get fired for incompetent housekeeping, there would be a mighty scrambling around with mops and brooms and the six best-sellers would be cook books.

If you want your wife to be thrifty, teach her how to run a budget. It is amazing how little the average girl knows about handling money. Up to the time that she is married her mother has bought her clothes and her father has paid her bills with grumblings, and she has probably never had but a few dollars to spend as she pleased.

Hence when her husband's pocketbook is turned over to her she dips into it recklessly. A charge account looks to her like a magic lamp that you rub and get hats and frocks and shoes without paying for them, and without realizing what she is doing she runs her husband into debt and turns him into one of those poor slaves who spend their lives toiling to support beauty shops and milliners and dress shops and department stores.

Now any man is a weakling and a fool who permits his wife to ruin him with her extravagance. Nor would many husbands be victims of spenders if they would start out when they married by giving their wives a definite allowance and teaching them not only how to spend it, but how necessary it is to save if one expects to get anywhere in the world. Piling up a savings account can be made an exciting game if a husband will play it with his wife. Doing without a new car or a trip is one thing if the money is going in an investment that will mean profit later on, but just being told that she can't have it is something else. The man who never tells his wife anything about his business or how much he is making has only himself to blame if his wife spends too much.

Furthermore, son, if you begin while your bride is young and plastic clay in your hands, you can teach her pretty much all of the parlor tricks that make a wife a pleasant and agreeable life companion. You can teach her to play the things you like and play your games. You can teach her to play fair and give as well as take. You can teach her to be a good sport. You can teach her not to nag, not to be a petty tyrant. You can teach her to take marriage on the chin instead of in the heart. And while this takes time and tact and patience, it is worth all it costs.

Believe me, son, it will pay you to train your wife.

UNCLE WIGGILY'S SEA HORSE

By HOWARD R. GARIS

The Old Sea Dog, who used to be a sailor but who now kept a toy stand on the boardwalk near Uncle Wiggily's seashore cottage, was out on the beach early one morning when the rabbit gentleman was hopping along looking for an adventure.

"The ocean is a wonderful place," said Uncle Wiggily.

"Indeed it is," growled the Old Sea Dog. He didn't growl because he was cross but because that was his manner of speaking. "There are more things in the ocean than on land," went on the dog.

"I can hardly believe that," said Uncle Wiggily, politely.

"Well, I know," was the answer. "I have been around the sea all my life. Why, do you know there are not only sea lions, but sea lettuce, and cucumbers, sea berries, sea weed and sea horses?"

NEVER SAW SEA HORSE

"I know there is sea weed," said Uncle Wiggily with a laugh, "for I popped some of it for my little rabbits yesterday. But sea horses—I never saw one of those. You wouldn't fool a poor old rabbit gentleman, would you?" he asked the Sea Dog.

"Indeed I wouldn't," was the answer. "I'm telling you there is such a thing as a sea horse and you may find one if you keep your eyes open as you walk along the beach. Of course, they aren't common around here," went on the Sea Dog, "for, mostly, they live in the tropics where the water is always warm. But it is now summer here and the sea is warm, so if you are lucky you may find a sea horse on the sand."

"I would like to," spoke Mr. Longears. "I'm going to hop along now and look for one."

"Good luck to you!" growled the Old Sea Dog.

"Thanks," said the rabbit gentleman as he hopped on down the beach.

If Uncle Wiggily hoped to see jolly little sea horses, or even ponies, galloping along the sandy beach, he was to be disappointed. He saw none. For a while he thought the Sea Dog might, after all, have been fooling him.

"I BELIEVE HIM"

"But he is a good friend," said Mr. Longears to himself, "and I don't believe he would do that. If he says there are animals in the sea that look like horses I believe him."

By the time Uncle Wiggily had hopped to a quiet bay, or cove, where the water wasn't so rough. There was much seaweed floating near shore and, to his surprise, throwing itself up from a mass of the weed was what looked to be the head of a little horse.

"Oh, I've found one!" cried the rabbit. "Where there, Sea Horse!" he called and the tiny animal stopped bobbing about and said:

"Hello, Uncle Wiggily!"

"Hello," answered the rabbit gentleman, "I am glad to see you. The Sea Dog told me about you, but I could hardly believe him. Are you really a Sea Horse?"

"Well, that is what mother called me," answered the strange creature who, though he had a head and neck that looked like those of a horse, had no legs. He had a long tail, which, as Uncle Wiggily could notice, was coiled about a stem of sea weed beneath the water.

"You do look like a horse, that is, part of you," said the rabbit. "But you can't come out on the sand and run up and down, can you?"

"No," replied the Sea Horse. "I can't. As a matter of fact I'm not even a good swimmer. Most of the time I cling with my tail to weeds and to another herself as I eat. I can manage to paddle from one bunch of weed to another, but that is about all."

"Well, I'm glad to have seen you," said the rabbit. "I wish you would wait here until I can show you to my bunny children."

"I'll wait," promised the jolly little Sea Horse, which was only about three inches long. There are much larger sea horses than this. In China and Australia they grow to a length of two feet. A baby might ride on their backs.

While Uncle Wiggily was hopping away to call his bunnies to see the strange sight, all of a sudden the bad prowling Sea Lion flopped out on the beach to catch the rabbit. But then Uncle Wiggily saw Baby Bunty playing in the sand with other rabbits and he called:

"Come and look at my Sea Horse! Quick! Come and watch my Sea Horse!"

"Oh, my goodness!" roared the bad Sea Lion. "If Uncle Wiggily has a Sea Horse I never can catch him. I might as well go home." So back the Sea Lion flopped into the waves, not knowing it was only a tiny horse the bunny mom afterward showed to his children. But so it goes. And if the dishpan will let the lollypop stick do some rub a dub dub drumming on it for the Jumpy Jumps to march, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's Sea Horse.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel"

THURSDAY, JULY 26, 1934

Adverse aspects rule strongly to-day, according to astrology, but it is a planetary government changeable and uncertain.

Uranus continues in a way making for ill feeling and a disposition to find fault.

Explosions are again forecast. Warnings by astrologers made months ago are repeated. Bombs, infernal machines and similar methods of doing damage may be employed by persons of evil intent.

Men who are entrusted with power to-day may be sensitive to the changeable influence of the sun, which inclines them quickly to change their policies. The afternoon is more favorable than the morning for interviews than in another thirty.

Advertising is well directed by the stars to-day, and newspapers continue under favorable planetary influence, which seems to presage many sensational events that will increase the number of readers.

While radio broadcasts will include news items spoken bulletins will have little effect on the printed word, the more declare, but new laws governing air programmes and policies are progressing for the autumn.

Authors have a fortunate foreshadowing for the autumn and winter, when new writers will produce books that will win acclaim.

Travel for the Prince of Wales and other representatives of European ruling is foretold as having special interest. Perhaps unusual, unlikely, great care is maintained in safeguarding distinguished tourists.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of unusuals, events. Changes (sudden) about by legacies and wills are foreseen.

Children born on this day probably will be resourceful and fond of scientific studies. They are likely to be strongwilled but dependable.

C. B. Cortelyou, Secretary of Commerce and Labor under President Theodore Roosevelt, was born on this day, 1862, and Isaac Babbitt, inventor, in 1799.

Capt. H. Newcomb Who Served Here Passes

Was Examiner of Ships' Papers During Great War; Was Captain of Many Ships in Coastal Waters

Well known at this port, as well as at many others along the British Columbia coast, Capt. Holmes Newcomb, seventy-five years of age, died in the General Hospital, Vancouver, on Monday evening after an illness of three weeks. Many times during his career Capt. Newcomb brought ships in and out of Victoria, and during the Great War was stationed at Esquimalt harbor.

Born in Albert County, New Brunswick, he arrived in Vancouver in 1886 and a few years later joined the Union Steamship Company and served with it for twelve years. During that time he was master of various vessels, among them the Sa. Cutch, which was on the Nanaimo-Vancouver run. Later, during the gold rush days, he was master of vessels operating from Victoria and Vancouver to Skagway.

IN GOVERNMENT SERVICE

When the Dominion Government established a fisheries protection service on this coast, Capt. Newcomb was placed in command of the Kestrel, a wooden ship built in Vancouver. Later more modern vessels were ordered, the Malaspina and Galiano. They were built in Ireland and were duplicates of the vessels employed in the Irish fisheries protection service.

Capt. Newcomb was on the bridge of the Malaspina for years and often visited Victoria, several times bringing in United States fishing boats which he had captured poaching in Canadian waters. On one occasion the skipper was forced to use his ship's guns to effect a capture. The Malaspina is still in commission, but the Galiano foundered with all hands off the Queen Charlotte Islands in 1918. Capt. Newcomb retired from this service in 1923.

AT ESQUIMALT

Volunteering for active duty the second day after war was declared in 1914, Capt. Newcomb was appointed examiner of ships' papers at Esquimalt harbor and occupied that position until peace was declared, his request for more active service being refused on the ground that he was performing a highly important duty in that office.

A member of the Vancouver Pioneers' Association, Capt. Newcomb was a former president of the organization, having been unanimously elected to that office in 1927, serving for one year.

He is survived by his widow at the family residence in Vancouver, 3686 West Thirty-sixth St.; two brothers, Capt. J. M. Newcomb of Victoria and Rev. H. C. Newcomb, of Simcoe, Ontario, and one son, Gordon Newcomb of Seattle.

TRINIDAD MOB ATTACKS WHITES

Canadian Press

Port of Spain, Trinidad, July 25.—One thousand unemployed plantation workers stormed the offices of the Caroni estate yesterday, injuring two white overseers and five native policemen. Bullets shot over their heads by police finally dispersed the mob, but not before the offices were wrecked.

Armed with stones, shovels, pitchforks and spades, they startled officials by their sudden attack. Instigators of the dissatisfied unemployed managed to snip office telephone wires and cut off communication.

Police to-day were investigating the outbreak.

HEAVY TRAVEL IN MOUNTAINS

Resorts and Hotels in Canadian Rockies Are Taxed to Capacity

Banff, July 25.—Records for many seasons were broken in large numbers of tourists to arrive over the week-end and to-day at Banff Springs Hotel and adjacent Canadian Pacific resorts and bungalow camps of the Rockies. Touring parties on the recently inaugurated all-expense plan arrived in such numbers from central, southern and eastern United States localities that camps and hotels at Emerald Lake, Lake Louise and Banff were taxed to an extent not experienced since 1929, to provide accommodation and service.

A. E. Robertson, western manager of Canadian Pacific hotels, who arrived to-day from headquarters at Winnipeg, considered travel conditions as he found them here definite indication of a more optimistic business attitude. At Emerald Lake, said Mr. Robertson, eight of the largest buses in use were required to convey the incoming travel tour members to the Chalet in the mountains. Passengers filled the large dining-rooms of Banff Springs Hotel and Chateau Lake Louise and the bungalow camps were as largely patronized. In the opinion of travel tour conductors, also, four of whom arrived with individual parties numbering more than 150 in all, the American continent is again becoming travel conscious and is seeing its own international charms by actual contact.

TO INVESTIGATE SHIP'S SAILING

Thorough Inquiry Into Sailing of Ss. President Grant Will Be Made

Seattle, July 25.—Sailing of the American Mail liner President Grant over protests of Collector of Customs Saul Haas, who contended she was improperly manned, will be thoroughly investigated, United States Senator Homer T. Bone said to-day.

The liner sailed Sunday morning for the Orient when J. W. Dickinson, assistant secretary of commerce, ordered her release after a fine of $500 had been paid. The vessel departed with seventy-eight passengers and 7,000 tons of cargo.

Bone's statement follows:

"Haas was either right or wrong. If he was wrong, then a fine should not have been levied against this company. Haas insisted that there was a violation of the plain mandate of the law. If he was right, there could be no possible justification for allowing a violation of the salutary rules of safety at sea. Of all public agencies, the United States Government should be the very last to even consider or condone a practice, which amounts to the sale of an indulgence to violate the law.

"In view of the wide interest aroused by the incident and the fact that high government officials have seen fit to intervene and direct that a fine be paid in advance and that the ship be allowed to sail, I feel impelled to make an examination of the facts and to secure these from official sources. Pending this inquiry, I have no other comment to make at this time."

Big Yacht In Harbor To-day

On a pleasure trip of lower British Columbia waters, the smart motor yacht Maria Dolores reached the inner harbor basin early this morning from Seattle.

Clifford Morris of Texas, the craft's owner, with a party of three guests, was aboard and spent the morning playing golf. They intended to return to the boat this afternoon and leave immediately for the Gulf Islands.

The Maria Dolores, which has been a visitor to Victoria several times during the last few years, is registered at Corpus Christi, Texas, but usually makes her headquarters in Seattle where Mr. Morris and his friends join her.

Other visiting yachts in the inner harbor this morning were the Seafarer of Seattle and the Douglas A. of Edmonds.

The figures of height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the tables, the tide rises or falls continuously during three of the usual tidal periods.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of low water.

Discovery Sets New Atmosphere Limits

Experiments at Harvard University Reveal Region 1,000 Miles From Earth Reflects Wireless Waves

Associated Press

Cambridge, Mass., July 25.—The highest point yet reached by human signals, a "refracting region" 1,000 miles overhead, which reflects wireless signals back to the earth, has been discovered with Harvard instruments.

From 100 to 200 miles aloft is the ordinary height of the layers of air known to reflect wireless waves. Previously the very greatest height of such layers has been about 500 miles.

But 1,000 miles is above the regions which scientists ordinarily describe as the outer limits of the earth's atmosphere, and the Harvard discoveries may lead to a redefinition of the effective height of the atmosphere.
